3 Children Hurt In Traffic Accident

Actress Jayne Mansfield, 2 Others Killed In Crash

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Actress Jayne Mansfield, her lawyer, and a Mississippi youth died today when their car struck a trailer truck on narrow U.S. 90 in eastern New Orleans.

Three of the 34-year-old Hollywood star's children were taken to Charity Hospital. A police spokesman said the children—Marie, 3, Miklos Jr., 8, and Zoltan Hargitay, 6, were "not hurt too bad." Two other children were not with her.

Police identified Miss Mansfield's male companions as Samuel S. Brody, her attorney, and Ronnie Harrison, 20, of Mississippi City, a small town on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Miss Mansfield had left Biloxi, Miss., about midnight and was en route to New Orleans where she was scheduled to appear on a television program at noon.

Police said the actress was decapitated.

The accident happened about 30 miles east of downtown New Orleans on a winding, narrow stretch of the two-lane route—known as the Old Spanish Trail.

Richard Rambo, around 40, of Pensacola, Fla., driver of the truck, said the car appeared suddenly from the rear and ran beneath the truck's trailer. Rambo was not hurt.

A doctor at Charity Hospital said Miss Mansfield's children were undergoing X rays.

"None of them seems critical," he said. "We want to keep them here for observation, pending arrival of some relatives."

The hospital said Mickey suffered a fractured arm, while the other two were treated for abrasions.

Miss Mansfield had been appearing at the Gus Stevens Restaurant and Supper Club in Biloxi. Her engagement began June 23 and was scheduled to end July 4. On week nights, she performed at a 9 p.m. dinner show and at the 11 p.m. supper show.

Brody had been Miss Mansfield's companion and lawyer. His wife had accused him in a divorce action recently of committing adultery with Miss Mansfield, who was separated from her third husband, Matt Cimber, a stage director. Miss Mansfield and Cimber had a child, Antonio, 1.

Miss Mansfield was born April 1933, in Bryn Mawr, Pa., and grew up in Phillipsburg, N.J. Her real name was Vera Jayne Palmer. Later she moved to Texas and was graduated from Highland Park High School in Dallas and attended the University of Texas and the University of California at Los Angeles.

Her ascent to fame came accidentally when a press agent managed to get her on a publicity junket to Florida for a Jane Russell movie. She happily posed for photographers in a skimpy red bikini and stole the

Pressure Put On Israel To Reverse Annexation

Annexation Sours LBJ, King Parley

Officials Believe Step Was Timed To Coincide With Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials report privately the Israeli annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem soured the atmosphere of President Johnson's first conference with King Hussein of Jordan since that Arab nation lost its war with Israel.

Officials also said they believed the annexation of the Jordanian sector was timed to coincide with the meeting Wednesday. Whether deliberately timed or not, it reportedly cast a pall over the Johnson-Hussein talks despite two U.S. warnings during the day against the annexation.

About the only public report of the meeting came from George Christian, White House press secretary, who said the two leaders reached "no identity of views" at their working luncheon.

Officials also said they expect neither warning to have much effect on Israeli leaders. The annexation, they added, proves that hawks dominate Israeli political life.

The first warning, issued by the White House, urged Israel to avoid any quick annexation of the Old City, which it occupied during the Arab-Israeli war earlier this month.

Shortly after the annexation, the State Department denounced the merger as a "hasty administrative action" and served notice the United States would not recognize it.

Both statements referred to Johnson's June 19 speech on the Middle East which counseled "adequate recognition of the special interests of the three great religions in the holy places of Jerusalem."

This view, officials said, has been made clear to the Israeli government on various occasions.

Hussein, who leaves Friday for Jordan, returned to New York late Wednesday where a statement he issued was read at the United Nations by Jordanian Foreign Minister Ahmed Toukan.

Urging the world to stand firm against the annexation, the statement added, "We do not accept any attempt which would secure any fruits of Israel's aggression.

What prompted the Israelis to disregard Washington's advice is a matter of speculation, officials said. They warned that if those who want to exploit the

Israel Aide Speaks

Any Withdrawal Tied To 'Peace'

By JERRY NACHMAN

"We do not come drunk with victory, but clothed in sadness," Avraham Avi-Hai, public affairs secretary for the prime minister of Israel, told 150 at a tribute dinner in honor of Michael Turk at the East Liverpool Country Club Wednesday.

Pledges of $60,000 for the purchase of State of Israel bonds were made during the event.

AVI-HAI SAID in terms of population ratios, Israel suffered the equivalent of the United States losing 70,000 men and sustaining 250,000 wounded.

"The proportion of officers to men was high, of those in our beloved kibbutzim (collective farms), and of the children of our leaders was high," Avi-Hai continued, referring to the 679 Israelis killed.

"We are determined," he said "there will not be a war every 10 years. There will be peace. Even if Israel is alone at the United Nations and if the Soviet Union can get a two-thirds majority for withdrawal, there will be no withdrawal unless there is peace."

Avi-Hai stressed the fact that Israel will not think of surrendering the lands won in last month's brief war until direct peace negotiations are held with the Arabs.

DISCUSSING the annexation of the old city of Jerusalem, he asked "What is the meaning of today's chorus? For the first time all three faiths have been guaranteed access to their holy places. Each site is under the administration of its individual faith and the Western Wall of Solomon's Temple (the Wailing Wall) is open to Jews who were deprived the right to pray there."

Avi-Hai quoted a Hebrew Biblical reference, translated as "My House Shall Be a House of Prayer," and said this is "now realized in sanctity and freedom."

The speaker blasted the Soviet Union for "funneling billions of dollars of arms into Arab hands and irritating Nasser."

"We watched," he continued, "as the hangman's noose drew tight around our nation. As 900 Russian-made tanks came to our borders. We watched on our radar as MIGS and Aleutian jets took to the air, as solemn committments were held in abeyance.

"Our crisis of nerves ended between May 16 and June 10."

AVI-HAI SAID the Russians were backing the wrong side. He said his country believes there is a "rising tide of sympathy in the world for the Israelis" and leaders who disagree with their

Resolution Asks Troop Withdrawal

Yugoslavia Envoy Calls For Adoption Of Plan By Friday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Pressure mounted on Israel today at the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly to reverse its annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem.

Fifteen nonaligned nations submitted a resolution to the Assembly Wednesday calling on the Israeli government to withdraw its troops from all the territory seized from Egypt, Jordan and Syria in the six-day war that began June 5.

Introducing the resolution, Ambassador Danilo Lekic of Yugoslavia said the Old City was threatened with full integration into Israel and called for the 122-nation Assembly to adopt his resolution by Friday.

But meanwhile the Israeli government accomplished the integration with a proclamation enlarging the city limits of "Israeli Jerusalem" to include the Old City and some adjacent territory seized from Jordan.

Another resolution was reported in preparation expressing concern over steps the Israelis have taken regarding the Old City, declaring these invalid, and calling on Israel to do nothing further to prejudice the future status of the Old City. Jordan, Pakistan, Turkey, Spain and Peru were among the nations preparing the resolution.

Under the original U.N. partition plan for Palestine, Jerusalem was to be an international city, but Israel took the new part of the city during the 1948-49 Palestine war and Jordan seized the Old City. The Israelis drove the Jordanian army from the Old City — which contains

Reds Retreat In Wake Of 2-Day Battle

Maul South Viet Rangers And Evade Searching Force

SAIGON (AP) — A crack battalion of some 500 hard-core Communist guerrillas faded away into the jungles today after a running two-day battle in which it badly bloodied a South Vietnamese ranger battalion and evaded a searching force of more than 2,500 allied troops.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from the battle area that U.S. officers believe the Viet Cong unit scattered after more than 21 hours of heavy fighting over the two previous days.

Unofficial reports from the field said 163 South Vietnamese troops were missing, 9 were known dead and 119 had been wounded.

The running battle 40 miles northeast of Saigon matched the pattern of hit-and-run engagements that have sent U.S. casualties up sharply in recent days. The weekly casualty report released today said 274 Americans were killed and 1,258 were wounded last week. The death toll was almost double that of the week before.

The American dead were also more than double the South Vietnamese figure of 119 for the week. Enemy casualties totaled 1,905 dead, the U.S. Command said, compared with 1,801 the week before.

Information on the battle northeast of Saigon was sketchy. Esper reported that South Vietnamese casualties were heavy but no figures were available.

The worst losses appeared to have been inflicted on a ranger battalion shortly after it closed on the Viet Cong unit.

Several helicopters were possibly downed in the ranger landing but details were lacking.

The sweeping force still in pursuit of the Viet Cong unit includes men from the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, the U.S. 9th Infantry Division and several battalion of South Vietnamese troops.

The operation was touched off Tuesday when the rangers pushed into the jungle on a tip from a defector who claimed to be the bodyguard of the Communist battalion commander.

The rangers and the Viet Cong were locked in close jungle fighting for 10 hours that day. After a lull that night, the battle resumed for another 11 hours Wednesday, sometimes hand to hand and with the Reds spewing rocket grenades from

Thief Obtains Cash, Jewels Worth $1,050

A thief obtained $200 in cash and jewelry worth $850 or more late Wednesday night when he fled with a small change purse belonging to the proprietor of an East End nursing home, police reported.

The money and jewels, owned by Mrs. Pearl Wheatley of 911 Ohio Ave., were stolen about 11:40 p. m. from the kitchen of the Ohio Valley Nursing Home at 921 Ohio Ave., which she operates, police said.

The contents of the change purse included: $200 in $20 bills and assorted change; a white gold diamond dinner ring valued at $300; a half-carat diamond in a white gold setting worth $500; another white gold ring set with an opal and diamond chips, for which no value was estimated; a pair of diamond ear rings worth $50, and a "Cap and Whip" pin bearing the number 329.

Mrs. Wheatley told police she was in the hallway of the nursing home when she heard someone walking in the kitchen. She turned around to see who it was, but all she observed was a shadowy form going through the basement door, she reported. Entering the kitchen, she saw the small change purse was missing from her pocketbook. Then she telephoned the police department.

Officers said the thief apparently entered the nursing home through an open cellar window and left the same way. The window is on the east side of the home, just two feet from the steps to the main floor. A table underneath the window apparently was used by the thief in climbing in and out, officers said.

May Delete Levy On Race Horses

Ohio's Tax Increase Bill Starts Through Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The administration's tax increase bill started on its way through the Ohio Legislature Wednesday night with with indications that a proposed sales tax on race horses may be deleted.

Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Miami, the bill's sponsor, said a proposal to impose the tax on sale of horses in claiming races "somehow got into the bill by mistake." The "mistake" was explained by a later witness.

Gray was the leadoff witness before the Senate Ways and Means Committee which opened hearings on the omnibus bill to raise an additional $252 million for education in the 1967-69 biennium.

The majority leader said the measure was the administration's attempt "to make a realistic approach" but he emphasized the committee should feel free to make changes.

Gale W. Porterfield, state tax commissioner, told the committee it was he who included the race horse tax in the measure. "I'm the culprit," he said, adding: "for years I have felt there are some industries in Ohio which are not contributing so when this chance came along to do something, I did it," Porterfield said.

He noted the committee is free "to take it out," if it wishes. Porterfield estimated the tax would yield "only about $27,000 a year."

Gray estimated the total package would yield about $162 million a year after the taxes were fully implemented.

The majority leader explained the proposed new taxes this way:

—Liquor markup. The department would be authorized to increase its profits on sales at monopoly stores from 30 to 35 per cent. The markup could produce $20-$30 million a year.

—Gross receipts. A 1 per cent gross receipts tax would be levied on retailers. Yield estimated at $100 million a year.

—Sales tax. The 3 per cent sales tax would be expanded to parking fees, dry cleaning, towel and linen service, and horses in claiming races. The yield $1.57 million.

—Changing sales tax brackets. Lower the point at which collection of the sales tax begins from 31 cents to 11 cents. Estimated yield $8 million.

—Extending the sales tax to beer and liquor. Cigarettes $10 million, beer $7½ million.

Gray explained that other new revenue would be derived by language in the bill to "plug loopholes" which has led to court decisions exempting certain industrial equipment from the sales tax.

GOP Fails To Increase ADC Aid

Record $4.9 Billion Fund Bill Goes To Gov. Rhodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The record $4.9 billion appropriations bill to finance state operations for the two years beginning July 1 goes to Gov. James A. Rhodes' office today with legislative ears still ringing from one of the hottest fights of the session.

Minority Democrats and a handful of Republicans waged the battle Wednesday afternoon and night but failed in their efforts to increase state spending for the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) program.

When the smoke cleared, the big spending bill was unchanged from the way it came out of the Senate Finance Committee.

In other developments Wednesday, the legislature put on a burst of speed and passed an emergency bill reimbursing cities $3.5 million for maintenance and lighting of freeways inside their borders.

The Senate Ways and Means Committee opened hearings in crowded chambers on the administration bill to increase taxes for education. The room was filled with retail merchants, education, and Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Miami explained the measure. It calls for a tax on gross receipts and extension of the 3 per cent sales tax to several new areas, among other things.

Senators debated for about an hour before the House-approved budget bill received a 26-7 vote. Three Democrats — Sens. Oliver Ocasek D-27 Northfield, Summit; M. Morris Jackson D-21 Cleveland, and Bishop Kilpatrick D-32 Trumbull — joined all 23 Republicans in voting yes.

As amended by the Senate Finance Committee, the bill calls for the state to put up half of a $35 million ADC al-

Living Costs Continued To Rise In May

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reports the cost of living is still climbing with no indications the spiral is near its peak.

In addition, real spendable income as of May was $77.38 a week for a family of four, the lowest it has been in three years. This is the money left after taxes and after adjustment for changes in prices since the base period of 1957-29.

The Labor Department said Wednesday the cost of living jumped three-tenths of one per cent in May, putting it 2.7 per cent higher than a year before. The rise is two-tenths of one per cent more than the government predicted for the entire year.

The May figures put the consumer price index at 115.6, which means it costs $11.56 to buy items worth $10 in 1957-59.

Redistricting Bill Returned To Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Confessing confusion, the House has decided it doesn't like a congressional redistricting bill worked out by a House-Senate conference.

It sent the bill back to the conference committee Wednesday in hopes the panel can come up with something closer to the bill the House originally passed.

That would have fixed a maximum variation of 30 per cent between the population of each state's largest and smallest districts for the 1968 and 1970 elections, and lowered the limit to 10 per cent in 1972.

The Senate passed a measure that would have permitted no larger than a 10 per cent variation by 1968, but the conferees appointed by the House and Senate to work out the differences came up with something of their own.

Their bill would have provided that no state need redistrict at all until after the 1970 census, which means until the 1972 election.

The conference version approved late Monday was scheduled for a vote Wednesday, but members raised so many questions which the House conferees couldn't answer in private meetings that it was decided not to bring it up at all.

The leadership slipped a motion to return the measure to conference through the House without debate or a vote, and with most members unaware what was going on.

Rumors Hint Dissension; Ky May Quit

SAIGON (AP) — Rumors developed tonight of dissension within South Vietnam's military government and a possibility that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky might step down.

Informed sources said the Armed Forces Council, at a morning meeting, gave a no-confidence vote to Ky. Exactly what the vote was about was not known.

The council continued to meet late into the day.

U.S. sources said they could see no indication of a coup and did not know of any unusual troop movements.

Street talk was that Ky might give up his post as premier during the current presidential election campaign, in which he is a candidate. Other reports said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu might quit his post as chief of state for the campaign.

1,000 Negroes On Rampage

Wounded Count Mounts In Buffalo Racial Strife

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The count of wounded in racial rioting mounted here today, although an uneasy calm had settled over the city after the second straight night of violence.

More than 1,000 Negroes, most of them youths, rampaged through the lower East Side Wednesday night, firing guns, setting fires, looting stores and shattering windows, in an outburst blamed by some upon a lack of jobs and recreation facilities.

At least 14 persons were injured, none seriously, by shotgun blasts, and 4 policemen were treated for other injuries, such as bruises and cuts.

Disorder also broke out in neighboring Niagara Falls, but 50 helmeted policemen dispersed the 200 protestors within an hour and after only a few windows had been broken in the resort city's northeastern chiefly Negro section.

Although Buffalo police preferred to call the outbreak a disturbance, reporters on the the scene said it was a riot—the first major demonstration of racial unrest in Upstate New York since the Rochester riots of 1964.

The Buffalo streets quieted during the predawn hours, apparently because — in part — many young persons were so tired from the all-night rampage Tuesday that they went home to bed.

Yugoslavia Envoy Calls For Adoption Of Plan By Friday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Pressure mounted on Israel today at the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly to reverse its annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem.

Thief Obtains Cash, Jewels Worth $1,050

A thief obtained $200 in cash and jewelry worth $850 or more late Wednesday night when he fled with a small change purse belonging to the proprietor of an East End nursing home, police reported.

The money and jewels, owned by Mrs. Pearl Wheatley of 911 Ohio Ave., were stolen about 11:40 p. m. from the kitchen of the Ohio Valley Nursing Home at 921 Ohio Ave., which she operates, police said.

The contents of the change purse included: $200 in $20 bills and assorted change; a white gold diamond dinner ring valued at $300; a half-carat diamond in a white gold setting worth $500; another white gold ring set with an opal and diamond chips, for which no value was estimated; a pair of diamond ear rings worth $50, and a "Cap and Whip" pin bearing the number 329.

Ohio's Tax Increase Bill Starts Through Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The administration's tax increase bill started on its way through the Ohio Legislature Wednesday night with with indications that a proposed sales tax on race horses may be deleted.

Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Miami, the bill's sponsor, said a proposal to impose the tax on sale of horses in claiming races "somehow got into the bill by mistake." The "mistake" was explained by a later witness.

Gray was the leadoff witness before the Senate Ways and Means Committee which opened hearings on the omnibus bill to raise an additional $252 million for education in the 1967-69 biennium.

The majority leader said the measure was the administration's attempt "to make a realistic approach" but he emphasized the committee should feel free to make changes.

Gale W. Porterfield, state tax commissioner, told the committee it was he who included the race horse tax in the measure. "I'm the culprit," he said, adding: "for years I have felt there are some industries in Ohio which are not contributing so when this chance came along to do something, I did it," Porterfield said.

He noted the committee is free "to take it out," if it wishes. Porterfield estimated the tax would yield "only about $27,000 a year."

Gray estimated the total package would yield about $162 million a year after the taxes were fully implemented.

The majority leader explained the proposed new taxes this way.

—Liquor markup. The department would be authorized to increase its profits on sales at monopoly stores from 30 to 35 per cent. The markup could produce $20-$30 million a year.

—Gross receipts. A 1 per cent gross receipts tax would be levied on retailers. Yield estimated at $100 million a year.

—Sales tax. The 3 per cent sales tax would be expanded to parking fees, dry cleaning, towel and linen service, and horses in claiming races. The yield $1.57 million.

—Changing sales tax brackets. Lower the point at which collection of the sales tax begins from 31 cents to 11 cents. Estimated yield $8 million.

—Extending the sales tax to beer and liquor. Cigarettes $10 million, beer $7½ million.

Gray explained that other new revenue would be derived by language in the bill to "plug loopholes" which has led to court decisions exempting certain industrial equipment from the sales tax.

GOP Fails To Increase ADC Aid

Record $4.9 Billion Fund Bill Goes To Gov. Rhodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The record $4.9 billion appropriations bill to finance state operations for the two years beginning July 1 goes to Gov. James A. Rhodes' office today with legislative ears still ringing from one of the hottest fights of the session.

Minority Democrats and a handful of Republicans waged the battle Wednesday afternoon and night but failed in their efforts to increase state spending for the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) program.

When the smoke cleared, the big spending bill was unchanged from the way it came out of the Senate Finance Committee.

In other developments Wednesday, the legislature put on a burst of speed and passed an emergency bill reimbursing cities $3.5 million for maintenance and lighting of freeways inside their borders.

The Senate Ways and Means Committee opened hearings in crowded chambers on the administration bill to increase taxes for education. The room was filled with retail merchants, education, and Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Miami explained the measure. It calls for a tax on gross receipts and extension of the 3 per cent sales tax to several new areas, among other things.

Senators debated for about an hour before the House-approved budget bill received a 26-7 vote. Three Democrats — Sens. Oliver Ocasek D-27 Northfield, Summit; M. Morris Jackson D-21 Cleveland, and Bishop Kilpatrick D-32 Trumbull — joined all 23 Republicans in voting yes.

As amended by the Senate Finance Committee, the bill calls for the state to put up half of a $35 million ADC al-

Living Costs Continued To Rise In May

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reports the cost of living is still climbing with no indications the spiral is near its peak.

In addition, real spendable income as of May was $77.38 a week for a family of four, the lowest it has been in three years. This is the money left after taxes and after adjustment for changes in prices since the base period of 1957-29.

The Labor Department said Wednesday the cost of living jumped three-tenths of one per cent in May, putting it 2.7 per cent higher than a year before. The rise is two-tenths of one per cent more than the government predicted for the entire year.

The May figures put the consumer price index at 115.6, which means it costs $11.56 to buy items worth $10 in 1957-59.

Redistricting Bill Returned To Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Confessing confusion, the House has decided it doesn't like a congressional redistricting bill worked out by a House-Senate conference.

It sent the bill back to the conference committee Wednesday in hopes the panel can come up with something closer to the bill the House originally passed.

That would have fixed a maximum variation of 30 per cent between the population of each state's largest and smallest districts for the 1968 and 1970 elections, and lowered the limit to 10 per cent in 1972.

The Senate passed a measure that would have permitted no larger than a 10 per cent variation by 1968, but the conferees appointed by the House and Senate to work out the differences came up with sometning of their own.

Their bill would have provided that no state need redistrict at all until after the 1970 census, which means until the 1972 election.

The conference version approved late Monday was scheduled for a vote Wednesday, but members raised so many questions which the House conferees couldn't answer in private meetings that it was decided not to bring it up at all.

The leadership slipped a motion to return the measure to conference through the House without debate or a vote, and with most members unaware what was going on.

Rumors Hint Dissension; Ky May Quit

SAIGON (AP) — Rumors developed tonight of dissension within South Vietnam's military government and a possibility that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky might step down.

Informed sources said the Armed Forces Council, at a morning meeting, gave a no-confidence vote to Ky. Exactly what the vote was about was not known.

The council continued to meet late into the day.

U.S. sources said they could see no indication of a coup and did not know of any unusual troop movements.

Street talk was that Ky might give up his post as premier during the current presidential election campaign, in which he is a candidate. Other reports said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu might quit his post as chief of state for the campaign.

1,000 Negroes On Rampage

Wounded Count Mounts In Buffalo Racial Strife

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The count of wounded in racial rioting mounted here today, although an uneasy calm had settled over the city after the second straight night of violence.

More than 1,000 Negroes, most of them youths, rampaged through the lower East Side Wednesday night, firing guns, setting fires, looting stores and shattering windows, in an outburst blamed by some upon a lack of jobs and recreation facilities.

At least 14 persons were injured, none seriously, by shotgun blasts, and 4 policemen were treated for other injuries, such as bruises and cuts.

Disorder also broke out in neighboring Niagara Falls, but 50 helmeted policemen dispersed the 200 protestors within an hour and after only a few windows had been broken in the resort city's northeastern chiefly Negro section.

Although Buffalo police preferred to call the outbreak a disturbance, reporters on the the scene said it was a riot—the first major demonstration of racial unrest in Upstate New York since the Rochester riots of 1964.

The Buffalo streets quieted during the predawn hours, apparently because — in part — many young persons were so tired from the all-night rampage Tuesday that they went home to bed.

Householders Start Rush On Low-Cost Street Jobs

With the deadline Friday, East Liverpool householders have started a rush to file petitions to participate in the city's annual low-cost summer street surfacing program.

Twenty of the petitions already have been filed. Following its usual custom, the city will pay 50 per cent of the cost of each job, plus the cost of intersections. The city's share is paid out of income tax revenues. Householders will pay the other half, computing the cost at the rate of one cent per lineal foot, multiplied by the width of the street.

IN ADDITION, the city will apply surface sealing coats to streets given the original coating of asphaltic material two years ago. The seal-coat is applied at no cost to property owners.

Petitions are in circulation for improvement of these stretches:

close quarters at U.S. armored vehicles which had reached the scene.

Planes and artillery raked the Red positions repeatedly, and Wednesday night American high-altitude B52s made a saturation raid of 180,000 pounds of bombs on possible jungle escape routes.

For two hours this morning U.S. air and artillery again pounded the Viet Cong positions before the extensive allied search-and-destroy attack jumped off. It made intermittent contacts with small units and reported a large haul of equipment and ammunition. But the main Red force had evidently evaporated.

Several other sharp fights were reported Wednesday—notably a pitched battle in coastal Binh Dinh Province in which a 250-man Red force lost 35 dead and seven Americans were killed—but nothing to match the intensity of the fighting northeast of Saigon.

Heavy American pounding of North Vietnamese targets continued Wednesday with 139 air strikes, many again concentrated on the rail lines extending north and south of Hanoi.

The raids cost one Navy Phantom jet downed. The two crewmen were missing. A spokesman said two parachutes were seen descending after the plane was hit. It was the 590th U.S. combat plane reported downed over North Vietnam.

Hanoi Radio claimed three American planes were shot down and the pilots captured.

total victory over the Arabs continue to dominate the Israeli government, Israel might surprise the world with other accomplished facts which it did not do after its two previous victories in 1948 and 1956.

The hawks, the speculation here is, wanted to act quickly before someone, perhaps the United States, could stop them or at least try to talk them out of such action.

The annexation was the result of a combination of religious and political considerations, U.S. Middle East specialists believe. The former Jordanian half of Jerusalem shelters a number of Jewish holy places from which the Israelis were barred by the Jordanians.

In November 1947 the U.N. General Assembly ruled that Jerusalem as a whole must become an international city. The ruling was never carried out. When the fighting ended, the demarcation or armistice line between Israeli and Jordanian forces was drawn right across Jerusalem and became the boundary between the two countries.

The United States never has recognized the city's partition and, accordingly, did not recognize Israeli action moving their government to their part of Jerusalem in 1952. The U.S. Embassy remained in Tel Aviv.

Fireworks Sale Brings $50 Fine To Store Owner

Fred L. Rayl, operator of Rayl's Market at 246 W. 4th St., was fined $50 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a police charge of selling fireworks in violation of the City Code.

Rayl was cited Wednesday at 2:40 p. m. at his store by Patrolman Charles Coen, who said he purchased fireworks after appearing at the food market in plain clothes. Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Patrolman Charles A. Winters assisted in the arrest.

Coen introduced as evidence a paper sack containing about a dozen firecrackers about two inches long and an inch in diameter. They were marked "M-80 Firecracker. Do Not Hold In Hand." Capt. Mooney told the judge the firecrackers "are very powerful."

Coen said Rayl offered to sell him "a gross or a half a gross" of firecrackers. Rayl told the judge he had "two boxes of firecrackers that I have had since I started in business."

Chief A. J. Radeschi said he ordered an investigation after police learned of alleged fireworks sales at Rayl's store.

"This sort of thing can cause a tragedy by maiming some person just because you want to make a buck," Judge Chertoff told Rayl. In assessing the fine, he commented: "I am going to make it unprofitable for you or anyone else to sell fireworks."

Area Mishaps Injure Three

Two East Palestine women were injured in a mishap early today and a Weirton trucker was hurt in an accident Wednesday north of Rogers.

The Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Jessye M. Davis, 34, of 611 W. Martin St., East Palestine, was eastbound on Route 46, a mile and a half west of East Palestine when her car went off the road.

The vehicle traveled 132 feet along the edge, returned to the highway and then went 81 feet more before going off the road again. The car crossed a drainage ditch and came to rest in a field 192 feet from the south edge of the road, officers said.

The mishap was timed at 2:30 a. m. The driver and a passenger, Louella Little, 30, of 1120 Howell Ave., East Palestine, were taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment.

Paul Frank Micelli, 26, of Weirton suffered injuries when his truck rammed an embankment Wednesday at 2:40 p. m. on Route 7 north of Rogers.

He was southbound when he started to pass a car, observed an oncoming vehicle and cut sharply to the right, going off the highway and striking the embankment, officers said. There were 80 feet of tire prints from the road to the bank. The truck then careened back onto the highway, traveling 72 feet, before coming to a halt. Traffic was partially blocked for about an hour, officers said.

Micelli was taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment.

A car operated by Jean J. Sandoe, 50, of Salineville R.D. 1 was struck in the rear by a pickup truck operated by Walter J. Himes, 54, of Lisbon R.D. 4 Wednesday at 5:40 p. m. on Route 39, two miles east of Route 164.

The woman had stopped for oncoming traffic before making a left turn, officers said.

Himes was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

ranging from pre-teens to their early 20s kept 400 police busy firing dozens of volleys of tear gas shells along four strife-torn blocks of Sycamore Street.

Many of the youngsters vanished after dark, leaving the streets to looters and arsonists.

More than 30 persons were arrested. At least a dozen fires were set. Those injured by gun blasts included two policemen accidentally shot by a third policeman, police said.

Windows were shattered in more than a dozen autos as white people tried to cruise through the troubled area.

Spokesmen at Emergency Hospital said they had treated nine persons with buckshot wounds. The two officers were treated elsewhere. Numbers of others suffered cuts and bruises.

Police Commissioner Frank N. Felicetta refused, as he had Tuesday night, to call the outbursts a riot.

"Let's change the word tonight," he said, "and call it a disturbance, looting and window-smashing."

Assistant Detective Chief Floyd J. Edwards, highest ranking Negro in the Police Department, called Wednesday nights outbreak "more intense" than Tuesday's but this feeling was not shared by street workers who fanned into the mile-square trouble zone dispensing advice to both Negroes and police.

Repeatedly, Negroes looted stores where windows had been smashed. They ran home bearing clothing, cases of beer and soft drinks, three-foot-long sausages, cases of cigars and insecticide.

"Man, there won't be a roach left on Adams Street come tomorrow," said one looter as he looked at a carton of insecticide.

locations in the bill and make it available to counties on a 90-10 matching basis. That means counties would put up one dollar to every nine by the state. The boost would raise ADC benefits from the present standards to about 83½ per cent.

The other $17½ million also would be available on a matching basis to raise benefits to 100 per cent of standards but counties this time would have to furnish 66.3 per cent of the additional cost and the state 33.7.

Ocasek offered an amendment for use of the entire $35 million on a 90-10 matching basis. He said this would boost payments to slightly more than 90 per cent. His amendment lost on a voice vote.

Sen. Robin T. Turner R-14 Marion was the only Republican voting yes on the roll call. He had supported Ocasek's amendment when it lost in the Finance Committee.

Democrats offered a series of other amendments to the budget bill but were rejected by majority Republicans who said the same amendments already had been considered in committee.

The Democratic amendments would have added $5 million for addition of 70 more men to the highway patrol, $500,000 for additional staffing in the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, and $614,000 to increase the investigative staff of the Department of Insurance.

House members held a 10 p.m. session to receive the budget bill back from the Senate for a vote on whether to concur on the ADC and 15 other less controversial Senate amendments. The vote to concur was 53-40.

In other developments, the House voted 85-5 to permit jail or workhouse inmates to accept outside employment. Only those serving less than a year for misdeameanors would be eligible.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill requiring that the prosecutor of the most populous county in a joint vocational school district serve as legal adviser.

A new bill introduced by Rep. R. R. Hollington Jr. R-56 Shaker Heights and others would authorize sale of liquor between 1. p.m. and midnight on Sundays subject to approval of local elections. Permits for such sale would cost $2,500 under the proposal.

Fireworks Sale Brings $50 Fine To Store Owner

Fred L. Rayl, operator of Rayl's Market at 246 W. 4th St., was fined $50 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a police charge of selling fireworks in violation of the City Code.

Rayl was cited Wednesday at 2:40 p. m. at his store by Patrolman Charles Coen, who said he purchased fireworks after appearing at the food market in plain clothes. Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Patrolman Charles A. Winters assisted in the arrest.

Coen introduced as evidence a paper sack containing about a dozen firecrackers about two inches long and an inch in diameter. They were marked "M-80 Firecracker. Do Not Hold In Hand." Capt. Mooney told the judge the firecrackers "are very powerful."

Coen said Rayl offered to sell him "a gross or a half a gross" of firecrackers. Rayl told the judge he had "two boxes of firecrackers that I have had since I started in business."

Chief A. J. Radeschi said he ordered an investigation after police learned of alleged fireworks sales at Rayl's store.

"This sort of thing can cause a tragedy by maiming some person just because you want to make a buck," Judge Chertoff told Rayl. In assessing the fine, he commented: "I am going to make it unprofitable for you or anyone else to sell fireworks."

Area Mishaps Injure Three

Two East Palestine women were injured in a mishap early today and a Weirton trucker was hurt in an accident Wednesday north of Rogers.

The Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Jessye M. Davis, 34, of 611 W. Martin St., East Palestine, was eastbound on Route 46, a mile and a half west of East Palestine when her car went off the road.

The vehicle traveled 132 feet along the edge, returned to the highway and then went 81 feet more before going off the road again. The car crossed a drainage ditch and came to rest in a field 192 feet from the south edge of the road, officers said.

The mishap was timed at 2:30 a. m. The driver and a passenger, Louella Little, 30, of 1120 Howell Ave., East Palestine, were taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment.

Paul Frank Micelli, 26, of Weirton suffered injuries when his truck rammed an embankment Wednesday at 2:40 p. m. on Route 7 north of Rogers.

He was southbound when he started to pass a car, observed an oncoming vehicle and cut sharply to the right, going off the highway and striking the embankment, officers said. There were 80 feet of tire prints from the road to the bank. The truck then careened back onto the highway, traveling 72 feet, before coming to a halt. Traffic was partially blocked for about an hour, officers said.

Micelli was taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment.

A car operated by Jean J. Sandoe, 50, of Salineville R.D. 1 was struck in the rear by a pickup truck operated by Walter J. Himes, 54, of Lisbon R.D. 4 Wednesday at 5:40 p. m. on Route 39, two miles east of Route 164.

The woman had stopped for oncoming traffic before making a left turn, officers said.

Himes was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

ranging from pre-teens to their early 20s kept 400 police busy firing dozens of volleys of tear gas shells along four strife-torn blocks of Sycamore Street.

Many of the youngsters vanished after dark, leaving the streets to looters and arsonists.

More than 30 persons were arrested. At least a dozen fires were set. Those injured by gun blasts included two policemen accidentally shot by a third policeman, police said.

Windows were shattered in more than a dozen autos as white people tried to cruise through the troubled area.

Spokesmen at Emergency Hospital said they had treated nine persons with buckshot wounds. The two officers were treated elsewhere. Numbers of others suffered cuts and bruises.

Police Commissioner Frank N. Felicetta refused, as he had Tuesday night, to call the outbursts a riot.

"Let's change the word tonight," he said, "and call it a disturbance, looting and window-smashing."

Assistant Detective Chief Floyd J. Edwards, highest ranking Negro in the Police Department, called Wednesday nights outbreak "more intense" than Tuesday's but this feeling was not shared by street workers who fanned into the mile-square trouble zone dispensing advice to both Negroes and police.

Repeatedly, Negroes looted stores where windows had been smashed. They ran home bearing clothing, cases of beer and soft drinks, three-foot-long sausages, cases of cigars and insecticide.

"Man, there won't be a roach left on Adams Street come tomorrow," said one looter as he looked at a carton of insecticide.

Symbol Of Canadian Unity

As many as 50 heads of state will visit Canada during its centennial year, but certainly none will be more welcome than Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. As long as she is on Canadian soil, Elizabeth is not a British sovereign but the Queen of Canada.

Traditionally, the Canadian French have had even warmer feelings toward the Throne than the English and Scots, though the warmth may have diminished in recent years.

During this year of celebration of the British North America Act, which came into force on July 1, 1867, Quebec separatism seems to have been dampened, though the French were reluctant partners in that bargain struck a century ago. The centenary of the confederation of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia — which formed the first self-governing Dominion of the British Empire — seems to be contributing peripherally to the Canadian people's search for national identity.

From Ottawa, Elizabeth and Philip go aboard the royal yacht to Montreal and Expo 67, the Canadian International and Universl Exhibition of 1967. There is something satisfying symbolic about this. Montreal is the heartland of separatist French Canada. Yet it is Expo 67 which has given Canadians a new sense of accomplishment.

Only national pride could have done it. Canadians are beginning to realize that they've done something extremely fine, a thing so good it surprises them as much as the outside world.

Canada is a land of agonizing disunity, of a six-year boom only recently tailing off, and of a natural wealth only now being realized. Canada today is the world's ninth largest oil and gas producer, and its huge reserves are only beginning to be proved. It produces most of the world's nickel. It has one-third of the world's known reserves of the nuclear ores, uranium and thorium.

Its vast forests on a sustained-yield basis could supply this continent's needs for paper, newprint, wood pulp, and lumber indefinitely.

Canada's hydroelectric power makes it the world's third greatest producer of aluminum. Perhaps its most valuable potential is pure water, of which she has about one-third of the world supply.

Elizabeth and Philip are no strangers to this cornucopian land. They show a special eagerness to visit Canada. In 1959, the Queen and Prince made a 45-day tour of the length and breadth of the nation. They visited such remote areas as the Yukon Territory, which no reigning monarch had ever penetrated.

Some 20 million Canadians, spread over a vast area, stand in need of a symbol to confirm their integral nationhood. For the great majority, Queen Elizabeth is that symbol.

Hedrick And KSU

Among the many men, women and young people who have helped make the Kent State University Academic Center in East Liverpool a surprising success has been John Hedrick, director of the center since 1965.

John lent his full energies and talents in assisting the growth of the center, which now has almost 400 students, 80 per cent of them full time.

Those aware of John's role in the progress of Kent here are sorry to see him leave, although they wish him good fortune in his new position with Akron University.

With men of Hedrick's caliber, the future of Kent in East Liverpool is assured. When the center moves into the East Liverpool High School building on Broadway after the new high school is completed, and when associate degrees and other programs are instituted here, the development of Kent's East Liverpool facility will probably surprise even Hedrick, who never shied away from predictions of things to come for KSU in ELO.

Dean Of Entertainers

We are glad Dean Martin has hit the superjackpot with a $34 million NBC contract for three years.

We are glad Johnny Carson also has got into bigger figures.

We are glad when any entertainer reaches a point in success that enables him to go home with a hatful of loot.

One thing about the payoff is clear. The payer always is sure he is getting his money's worth, or he wouldn't pay. There's no law to force him to bleed to death, as there is in forms of private enterprise that have been straitjacketed by government.

Dean Martin has made himself into a swaggering symbol of the carefree devil every man secretly wants to be and every woman secretly thinks would be a darned sight more fun than the humdrum boy friend she is encumbered with.

Some fellow summed it up by saying if he was reincarnated he would like to be Dean Martin's friend so he could have a share of the action day in and day out instead of only one night a week during the season.

There is the same feeling about Johnny Carson, who also has a great talent for making TV viewers feel as if they are sharing a camaraderie that almost never happens in real life but perennially fills their dreams.

Whatever people like these can make in the fantastic world of television, which has multiplied the exposure of entertainment personalities by a factor of as much as 110,000, is well-deserved.

That is to say, entertainers who once would have settled for an audience of 1,000 now are playing to audiences of upward of 10 million. They're worth what they earn for the enterprises that clean up on their drawing power.

There is still another reason for not resenting their fabulous incomes. It is the fact they are able to get the rest of us off our high horses from time to time — to get us back in shape after blabs by politicians, unctuous lies in the United Nations, fulminations by bubble-heads, gags and yucks by second-rate comedians and the drivel and dross of the workaday world.

There is more grimness than is good for the human soul in TV's instantaneous relay of all the bad news from everywhere while it is still happening — sometimes before it starts.

Mankind never was designed to bear these relentless blows of sorrow and adversity. It was not the natural plan for us spindle-legged, bony, stroop-shouldered mortals to carry the world on our backs.

Neverthless, it has worked out that way — and the ulcers and heart attacks are what could have been expected.

It is deeply important that along with the heebie-jeebies there should be a few laughs and a lot of chuckles.

We're glad Dean Martin has hit the jackpot. He has given us laughs and chuckles. Frankly, if reincarnated, most of us would rather return to life as his pals than the pals of, say, Arthur Goldberg, Dean Rusk, or that grim Russian fellow — the one who told the big lies.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

There seems to be a lot of comment about juvenile delinquency and vandalimsm, such as in Midland last Saturday in regard to the swimming pool incident.

I came to East Liverpool as a young man in 1911 and worked in local potteries, which at that date numbered quite a few.

My wife and I raised four nice children of whom I am very proud. They are all married now, and have families of their own. I was discussing with my daughter last week and she said we couldn't place all the blame on the parents. I told her I would grant her that, but I do believe the rod applied at the right time, at the right place, would do some good.

No children are perfect, but I do contend that right training means a lot. The Bible says train a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it.

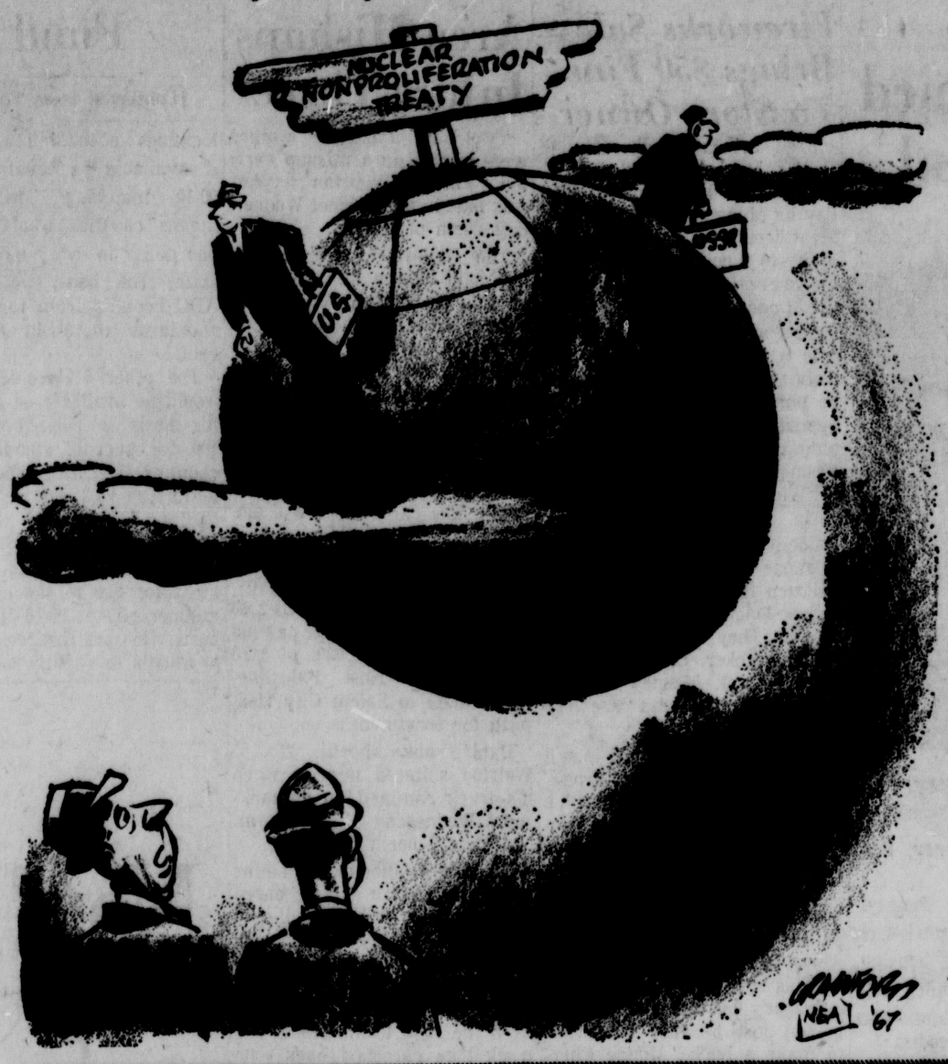
Those spectacular glides through space which delight travelers in all warm seas are the result of momentum achieved from sharp bursts of underwater speed. 'Eventually, They're Bound To Get Together'



Why Kosygin Came

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

There was so much talk last week about Premier Alexei Kosygin's summit talk with President Lyndon Johnson that the real reason for Kosygin's trip to the United States was obscured. Despite what he said at his press conference, I can now reveal that the main purpose of the Soviet premier's U.S. visit was to meet with Svetlana Stalin and see if he could tie up the Iron Curtain rights to the book she wrote about her father.

Art Buchwald

For months now the Soviet Union publishers, Harpinski and Rowvitch, have been trying to see Svetlana, but to no avail. Then, by a stroke of luck, the Middle East war took place, and when it was over the Arabs, backed by the Soviets, were in very sad straits.

The Soviet publishers went to see Premier Kosygin and told him the mediation of the Arab-Israeli dispute in the United Nations would give him a perfect excuse to go to New York and make contact with Svetlana. They pointed out that with the publicity the book received, the Iron Curtain rights were worth $2 billion, exactly the same amount of money the Soviets had lost in arming the Arabs in their war with the Israelis.

PREMIER KOSYGIN was at first reluctant to go. "If I go to the United States I'll probably have to speak in the United Nations and condemn Israel as an aggressor and defend the Arabs, which isn't very easy; and still I can't be sure Svetlana will see me or not."

The Soviet publishers argued, "Comrade Kosygin, this isn't an ordinary book. There's a lot of interest in Stalin right now, and this could be the biggest thing since 'War and Peace.'

"We've already had bids from Pravada, Izvestia and Red Star. The Proletariat Book of the Month Club is offering $500 million rubles and the Soviet Digest wants to print excerpts from it for its October Revolution issue. I can't tell you how many advance orders we've had from trade union discount houses."

"I know it sounds good on paper," Kosygin said, "but how do we know that Svetlana hasn't said embarrassing things in the book about the present regime?"

"In the contract we'll say that the book can't be published without the approval of you, Brezhnev an Podgorny."

"Of course. Why didn't I think of that? We'll insist on changing anything in the manuscript that we don't approve of."

"Exactly. And if she still tries to publish without the changes, we'll take her to court."

"ALL RIGHT. If you think we can recoup our $2 billion, it may be worth a try. But nobody is to know. We will annuonce that my sole reason for going to New York is to bring about peace in the Middle East and condemn the aggressors who launched their cowardly attack on the U.A.R., Jordan and Syria."

"Why not? It's as good a cover story as any."

"Do you think Svetlana will agree to see me?"

"You don't have to see her. Contact her lawyers and spell out the deal. Have you ever heard of a defector who wouldn't want to have a best seller in her own country?"

"I suppose not. Maybe she might even come back to the Soviet Union and plug the book when it's published."

"You could suggest it to her. Okay, then. It's settled. We'll announce you're going to the United Nations tomorrow. If you get the book rights, you'll still make the Arabs happy."

It is not known whether Kosygin saw Svetlana while he was in the United States, but it is believed that the premier was unsuccessful in his efforts to get the book. Nobody in the Soviet Union bothered to tell Kosygin that Svetlana's lawyers were named Greenbaum and Katz.

Too Much, Too Little

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

U Thant, secretary - general of the United Nations, is a mild Burmese who likes bacon and eggs and can get in a jam by saying too much or saying too little.

Five years ago what he said wasn't much but it turned out to be too much. He was trying to reunify the Congo at the time and got angry at the leaders of the secessionist Katanga government. He called them a "bunch of clowns."

He was criticized for that. This year, and he still stings from it, he was criticized for saying too little, or nothing at all, instead of consulting the U.N. General Assembly or the Security Council when Egypt told him to pull his U.N. peace-keeping troops out of Egypt immediately.

He did so promptly. And from that point relations between Israel and the Arabs headed straight for the short war which started this month and lasted less than a week, with the Arabs winding up on the short end.

PROTESTS piled up on him. The climax came last week in the United Nations when Israel's foreign minister, Abba Eban, said Thant had acted "disastrously swift" in yielding to the demands of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

This really irritated Thant who quickly issued a statement that explained he had no choice, that Nasser had voluntarily allowed the U.N. force to stand on the Egyptian side of the border with Israel and, therefore, could order them out when he wished.

In the course of this Thant implied Israel was in a poor position to complain that the U.N. troops had been pulled out of Egypt since Israel never permitted them inside Israel at all.

The Eban attack must have been a sore harpoon for this week Thant fired back again in his own defense, this time with such a detailed and lengthy statement that it took up almost three full newspaper pages.

He didn't need all that room. But his explanation — which in part was a repetition of his answer to Eban — squarely put the finger on Egypt as the one who precipitated the war.

Now almost a month after the war the biggest unanswered question — and Thant didn't answer it, either — is still: Who fired the first shot? But from Thant's explanation it was Egypt which lit the fire.

He said in mid-May the Egyptians told him to remove U.N. troops immediately from El Sabha in the northeast corner of the Sinai Peninsula, right on the border with Israel, and from Sharm el Sheik, in the southeast corner of Sinai, a point which can control shipping into the Gulf of Aqaba.

When Thant didn't act fast enough, Egyptian soldiers took over in both places and it wasn't long before Nasser decided to blockade the Gulf of Aqaba. This became the sorest point of all in Israeli-Arab relations.

In his statement, Thant said the long, simmering hostility between Israel and Egypt—he called it a "direct confrontation"—was made to bubble and boil by Egypt's decision "to move its forces up to the line."

But Israel didn't look good in Thant's explanation, either.

THANT pointed out that when Israel's delegate to the United Nations went to him to protest the U.N. withdrawal, on Nasser's demand, the complaint was that Nasser alone should not be permitted to demand and get the withdrawal.

But since Israel didn't want the U.N. force removed from Egypt, but Egypt did, Thant said he asked the Israeli delegate if Israel would permit the U.N. troops to move over and take up their peace-keeping role on the Israeli side of the border.

Thant said the Israeli delegate said such an idea was "entirely unacceptable to his government."

Way Of Living

By David Lawrence

It Must Be Found In Problems

On the surface, it looks as if the Soviet Union and the United States are adamant in their respective positions on the Middle East and the Vietnam War and a continuation of their stalemate is inevitable.

But things are not always what they seem to be in the field of diplomacy.

Changes come unexpectedly.

A number of years ago, an American ambassador of renown told a small group of correspondents on his return from a foreign country the inside story of a prblem which had been very frustrating.

It was an internal question involving religious friction. He had quietly but effectively been able to mediate. He related his experience as follows:

"I spent a good deal of time with each side and finally got them both to agree on one thing — namely, that the problem was absolutely insoluble. For neither group would recede or make any concession. But once everybody realized this, I asked them a simple question: 'After all, how are you going to live with this problem' then they became practical, and in due time we found a modus vivendi."

The phrase "modus vivendi" has long been a part of the vocabulary of diplomacy. Translated from the Latin, it means "a way of living."

Each party to a dispute may feel that it cannot afford to retreat or surrender or appear to be weakening, but there has to be a formula of action devised which can be pursued without loss of face.

It may take a long time for Moscow and Washington to come to an agreement that the present course being followed in the Middle East will not produce a lasting victory for anyone and that neither the Arab countries nor Israel can hardly accept a humiliating offer.

The same is also true with respect to Vietnam. Yet many an unsolved question ultimately comes to a stage where ways of living with it are actually found.

Premier Kosygin in his public appearances in this country had to say what he was told to say. There are reports that Leonid Brezhnev is No. 2.

What the premier said in his televised news conference and in his formal address to the U.N. General Assembly and what he said to President Johnson and Secretary Rusk was readily recognized as having been dictated by the all-powerful committee of the Communist party in Moscow.

Certainly the idea of Kosygin's going to see Fidel Castro in Cuba after his visit to the United States wasn't thought up by the premier himself.

It was calculated in advance, but it will turn out to be a blunder and just a method of tormenting Washington.

What finally compels the parties in a grave crisis to come to a solution even though it may not be satisfactory to either side?

The answer is world opinion — and this means also the pressure of internal opinion upon the governments in many countries — finally exerts a power that is decisive.

The probability of another world war has not been reduced but has just been increased by the uncompromising attitude of the Soviet government as revealed in Premier Kosygin's comments at his final news conference in New York.

The Soviets are doubtless aware that the American government cannot withdraw from Vietnam without some guarantees for the people of South Vietnam, and they must know also the Israelis are not likely to give up territorial gains made in the recent war without any assurancss as to their own security in the future.

So it is evident that a practical formula now has to be evolved if world peace is maintained.

The next step is to find a "modus vivendi" — a way of living with the problems of the Middle East and Vietnam.

Symbol Of Canadian Unity

As many as 50 heads of state will visit Canada during its centennial year, but certainly none will be more welcome than Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. As long as she is on Canadian soil, Elizabeth is not a British sovereign but the Queen of Canada.

Traditionally, the Canadian French have had even warmer feelings toward the Throne than the English and Scots, though the warmth may have diminished in recent years.

During this year of celebration of the British North America Act, which came into force on July 1, 1867, Quebec separatism seems to have been dampened, though the French were reluctant partners in that bargain struck a century ago. The centenary of the confederation of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia — which formed the first self-governing Dominion of the British Empire — seems to be contributing peripherally to the Canadian people's search for national identity.

From Ottawa, Elizabeth and Philip go aboard the royal yacht to Montreal and Expo 67, the Canadian International and Universl Exhibition of 1967. There is something satisfying symbolic about this. Montreal is the heartland of separatist French Canada. Yet it is Expo 67 which has given Canadians a new sense of accomplishment.

Only national pride could have done it. Canadians are beginning to realize that they've done something extremely fine, a thing so good it surprises them as much as the outside world.

Canada is a land of agonizing disunity, of a six-year boom only recently tailing off, and of a natural wealth only now being realized. Canada today is the world's ninth largest oil and gas producer, and its huge reserves are only beginning to be proved. It produces most of the world's nickel. It has one-third of the world's known reserves of the nuclear ores, uranium and thorium.

Its vast forests on a sustained-yield basis could supply this continent's needs for paper, newprint, wood pulp, and lumber indefinitely.

Canada's hydroelectric power makes it the world's third greatest producer of aluminum. Perhaps its most valuable potential is pure water, of which she has about one-third of the world supply.

Elizabeth and Philip are no strangers to this cornucopian land. They show a special eagerness to visit Canada. In 1959, the Queen and Prince made a 45-day tour of the length and breadth of the nation. They visited such remote areas as the Yukon Territory, which no reigning monarch had ever penetrated.

Some 20 million Canadians, spread over a vast area, stand in need of a symbol to confirm their integral nationhood. For the great majority, Queen Elizabeth is that symbol.

Dean Of Entertainers

We are glad Dean Martin has hit the superjackpot with a $34 million NBC contract for three years.

We are glad Johnny Carson also has got into bigger figures.

We are glad when any entertainer reaches a point in success that enables him to go home with a hatful of loot.

One thing about the payoff is clear. The payer always is sure he is getting his money's worth, or he wouldn't pay. There's no law to force him to bleed to death, as there is in forms of private enterprise that have been straitjacketed by government.

Dean Martin has made himself into a swaggering symbol of the carefree devil every man secretly wants to be and every woman secretly thinks would be a darned sight more fun than the humdrum boy friend she is encumbered with.

Some fellow summed it up by saying if he was reincarnated he would like to be Dean Martin's friend so he could have a share of the action day in and day out instead of only one night a week during the season.

There is the same feeling about Johnny Carson, who also has a great talent for making TV viewers feel as if they are sharing a camaraderie that almost never happens in real life but perennially fills their dreams.

Whatever people like these can make in the fantastic world of television, which has multiplied the exposure of entertainment personalities by a factor of as much as 110,000, is well-deserved.

That is to say, entertainers who once would have settled for an audience of 1,000 now are playing to audiences of upward of 10 million. They're worth what they earn for the enterprises that clean up on their drawing power.

There is still another reason for not resenting their fabulous incomes. It is the fact they are able to get the rest of us off our high horses from time to time — to get us back in shape after blabs by politicians, unctuous lies in the United Nations, fulminations by bubble-heads, gags and yucks by second-rate comedians and the drivel and dross of the workaday world.

There is more grimness than is good for the human soul in TV's instantaneous relay of all the bad news from everywhere while it is still happening — sometimes before it starts.

Mankind never was designed to bear these relentless blows of sorrow and adversity. It was not the natural plan for us spindle-legged, bony, stroop-shouldered mortals to carry the world on our backs.

Neverthless, it has worked out that way — and the ulcers and heart attacks are what could have been expected.

It is deeply important that along with the heebie-jeebies there should be a few laughs and a lot of chuckles.

We're glad Dean Martin has hit the jackpot. He has given us laughs and chuckles. Frankly, if reincarnated, most of us would rather return to life as his pals than the pals of, say, Arthur Goldberg, Dean Rusk, or that grim Russian fellow — the one who told the big lies.

Hedrick And KSU

Among the many men, women and young people who have helped make the Kent State University Academic Center in East Liverpool a surprising success has been John Hedrick, director of the center since 1965.

John lent his full energies and talents in assisting the growth of the center, which now has almost 400 students, 80 per cent of them full time.

Those aware of John's role in the progress of Kent here are sorry to see him leave, although they wish him good fortune in his new position with Akron University.

With men of Hedrick's caliber, the future of Kent in East Liverpool is assured. When the center moves into the East Liverpool High School building on Broadway after the new high school is completed, and when associate degrees and other programs are instituted here, the development of Kent's East Liverpool facility will probably surprise even Hedrick, who never shied away from predictions of things to come for KSU in ELO.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

There seems to be a lot of comment about juvenile delinquency and vandalimsm, such as in Midland last Saturday in regard to the swimming pool incident.

I came to East Liverpool as a young man in 1911 and worked in local potteries, which at that date numbered quite a few.

My wife and I raised four nice children of whom I am very proud. They are all married now, and have families of their own. I was discussing with my daughter last week and she said we couldn't place all the blame on the parents. I told her I would grant her that, but I do believe the rod applied at the right time, at the right place, would do some good.

No children are perfect, but I do contend that right training means a lot. The Bible says train a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it.

Those spectacular glides through space which delight travelers in all warm seas are the result of momentum achieved from sharp bursts of underwater speed. 'Eventually, They're Bound To Get Together'

Why Kosygin Came

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

There was so much talk last week about Premier Alexei Kosygin's summit talk with President Lyndon Johnson that the real reason for Kosygin's trip to the United States was obscured. Despite what he said at his press conference, I can now reveal that the main purpose of the Soviet premier's U.S. visit was to meet with Svetlana Stalin and see if he could tie up the Iron Curtain rights to the book she wrote about her father.

Art Buchwald

For months now the Soviet Union publishers, Harpinski and Rowvitch, have been trying to see Svetlana, but to no avail. Then, by a stroke of luck, the Middle East war took place, and when it was over the Arabs, backed by the Soviets, were in very sad straits.

The Soviet publishers went to see Premier Kosygin and told him the mediation of the Arab-Israeli dispute in the United Nations would give him a perfect excuse to go to New York and make contact with Svetlana. They pointed out that with the publicity the book received, the Iron Curtain rights were worth $2 billion, exactly the same amount of money the Soviets had lost in arming the Arabs in their war with the Israelis.

PREMIER KOSYGIN was at first reluctant to go. "If I go to the United States I'll probably have to speak in the United Nations and condemn Israel as an aggressor and defend the Arabs, which isn't very easy; and still I can't be sure Svetlana will see me or not."

The Soviet publishers argued, "Comrade Kosygin, this isn't an ordinary book. There's a lot of interest in Stalin right now, and this could be the biggest thing since 'War and Peace.'

"We've already had bids from Pravada, Izvestia and Red Star. The Proletariat Book of the Month Club is offering $500 million rubles and the Soviet Digest wants to print excerpts from it for its October Revolution issue. I can't tell you how many advance orders we've had from trade union discount houses."

"I know it sounds good on paper," Kosygin said, "but how do we know that Svetlana hasn't said embarrassing things in the book about the present regime?"

"In the contract we'll say that the book can't be published without the approval of you, Brezhnev an Podgorny."

"Of course. Why didn't I think of that? We'll insist on changing anything in the manuscript that we don't approve of."

"Exactly. And if she still tries to publish without the changes, we'll take her to court."

"ALL RIGHT. If you think we can recoup our $2 billion, it may be worth a try. But nobody is to know. We will annuonce that my sole reason for going to New York is to bring about peace in the Middle East and condemn the aggressors who launched their cowardly attack on the U.A.R., Jordan and Syria."

"Why not? It's as good a cover story as any."

"Do you think Svetlana will agree to see me?"

"You don't have to see her. Contact her lawyers and spell out the deal. Have you ever heard of a defector who wouldn't want to have a best seller in her own country?"

"I suppose not. Maybe she might even come back to the Soviet Union and plug the book when it's published."

"You could suggest it to her. Okay, then. It's settled. We'll announce you're going to the United Nations tomorrow. If you get the book rights, you'll still make the Arabs happy."

It is not known whether Kosygin saw Svetlana while he was in the United States, but it is believed that the premier was unsuccessful in his efforts to get the book. Nobody in the Soviet Union bothered to tell Kosygin that Svetlana's lawyers were named Greenbaum and Katz.

Too Much, Too Little

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

U Thant, secretary - general of the United Nations, is a mild Burmese who likes bacon and eggs and can get in a jam by saying too much or saying too little.

Five years ago what he said wasn't much but it turned out to be too much. He was trying to reunify the Congo at the time and got angry at the leaders of the secessionist Katanga government. He called them a "bunch of clowns."

He was criticized for that. This year, and he still stings from it, he was criticized for saying too little, or nothing at all, instead of consulting the U.N. General Assembly or the Security Council when Egypt told him to pull his U.N. peace-keeping troops out of Egypt immediately.

He did so promptly. And from that point relations between Israel and the Arabs headed straight for the short war which started this month and lasted less than a week, with the Arabs winding up on the short end.

PROTESTS piled up on him. The climax came last week in the United Nations when Israel's foreign minister, Abba Eban, said Thant had acted "disastrously swift" in yielding to the demands of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

This really irritated Thant who quickly issued a statement that explained he had no choice, that Nasser had voluntarily allowed the U.N. force to stand on the Egyptian side of the border with Israel and, therefore, could order them out when he wished.

In the course of this Thant implied Israel was in a poor position to complain that the U.N. troops had been pulled out of Egypt since Israel never permitted them inside Israel at all.

The Eban attack must have been a sore harpoon for this week Thant fired back again in his own defense, this time with such a detailed and lengthy statement that it took up almost three full newspaper pages.

He didn't need all that room. But his explanation — which in part was a repetition of his answer to Eban — squarely put the finger on Egypt as the one who precipitated the war.

Now almost a month after the war the biggest unanswered question — and Thant didn't answer it, either — is still: Who fired the first shot? But from Thant's explanation it was Egypt which lit the fire.

He said in mid-May the Egyptians told him to remove U.N. troops immediately from El Sabha in the northeast corner of the Sinai Peninsula, right on the border with Israel, and from Sharm el Sheik, in the southeast corner of Sinai, a point which can control shipping into the Gulf of Aqaba.

When Thant didn't act fast enough, Egyptian soldiers took over in both places and it wasn't long before Nasser decided to blockade the Gulf of Aqaba. This became the sorest point of all in Israeli-Arab relations.

In his statement, Thant said the long, simmering hostility between Israel and Egypt—he called it a "direct confrontation"—was made to bubble and boil by Egypt's decision "to move its forces up to the 'ine."

But Israel didn't look good in Thant's explanation, either.

THANT pointed out that when Israel's delegate to the United Nations went to him to protest the U.N. withdrawal, on Nasser's demand, the complaint was that Nasser alone should not be permitted to demand and get the withdrawal.

But since Israel didn't want the U.N. force removed from Egypt, but Egypt did, Thant said he asked the Israeli delegate if Israel would permit the U.N. troops to move over and take up their peace-keeping role on the Israeli side of the border.

Thant said the Israeli delegate said such an idea was "entirely unacceptable to his government."

Way Of Living

By David Lawrence

It Must Be Found In Problems

On the surface, it looks as if the Soviet Union and the United States are adamant in their respective positions on the Middle East and the Vietnam War and a continuation of their stalemate is inevitable.

But things are not always what they seem to be in the field of diplomacy.

Changes come unexpectedly.

A number of years ago, an American ambassador of renown told a small group of correspondents on his return from a foreign country the inside story of a prblem which had been very frustrating.

It was an internal question involving religious friction. He had quietly but effectively been able to mediate. He related his experience as follows:

"I spent a good deal of time with each side and finally got them both to agree on one thing — namely, that the problem was absolutely insoluble. For neither group would recede or make any concession. But once everybody realized this, I asked them a simple question: 'After all, how are you going to live with this problem' then they became practical, and in due time we found a modus vivendi."

The phrase "modus vivendi" has long been a part of the vocabulary of diplomacy. Translated from the Latin, it means "a way of living."

Each party to a dispute may feel that it cannot afford to retreat or surrender or appear to be weakening, but there has to be a formula of action devised which can be pursued without loss of face.

Foulks Lauded By Bar For 50 Years' Service

The Columbiana County Bar Association presented William S. Foulks of East Liverpool a framed letter Wednesday in recognition of his half century as a lawyer.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Common Pleas Court at Lisbon made the presentation on behalf of the association, which last week took note of Foulks' long service.

—:—

INASMUCH as Foulks was absent then, the bar commissioned Judge Buzzard and Judge Joel H. Sharp to present its testimonial.

"I am going to read it if you don't mind," Judge Buzzard said before making the presentation in Courtroom 2:

"Dear Bill: On behalf of the membership of the Columbiana County Bar Association, we are privileged to recognize your 50 years of loyal service to our association.

"As candidates for the bar, many of us recall the friendly interviews in which you sought to determine our credentials as persons worthy of admission to our high profession.

"You have achieved your unique record of service in length of time and dedication to our association which we are honored to hereby memorialize.

The letter was signed by the officers — George S. Bowman Jr., president; John B. McDonald Jr., vice president, and Jams R. Allison, secretary - treasurer.

THE HONOR was the second accorded Foulks. The Ohio State Bar Association gave him a 50-year certificate during the annual meeting last month in Dayton. He said 10 or 12 of the 45 eligible lawyers were present to receive the award.

Foulks was born and reared in Calcutta where his father, Edwin S. Foulks, farmed and operated a general store. He was graduated from East Liverpool High School and from the Ohio State University Law School in 1916.

He passed the state bar examination in the fall of 1916, married Minabelle Summer, daughter of a Columbus physician in December and began practice in January in the office of P. M. Smith, East Liverpool attorney who had been Common Pleas Court judge at Lisbon from 1895 to 1900.

The young lawyer served in World War I with a trade testing outfit and held the rank of regimental sergeant major. He said the purpose of the work was to test the soldiers for different jobs — "to locate the round pegs for the round holes and keep the square ones out."

FOULKS returned to East Liverpool after military service and began practicing law on his own in January 1919. He organized American Legion Post 4 in June 1919 and helped organize the Columbiana County American Legion Council in 1920.

He served on the County Bar Association's committee for admissions for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Foulks celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last December. They have resided at 239 W. 2nd St. the last 30 years. He works daily at his office at 205 E. 5th St.

The Foulks have a daughter, Martha Jean — Mrs. Robert L. Binsley of Sepulveda, Calif., and two sons, Edwin David with the Ansco Corp., Binghamton, N.Y., and William S. Jr., with the Harshaw Chemical Co., Cleveland. There are four grandchildren.

Attorneys To Get $1,200 For Work In Slaying Case

The two court - appointed lawyers who handled the appeal of Charles Copestick, 26, former East Liverpool resident convicted of first - degree murder, will receive a total of $1,200 for their work.

The Seventh District Court of Appeals fixed the compensation Wednesday in response to an application filed last month by the co-counsel, Donald D. Shay and G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool. They submitted no bill, asking only that the court fix compensation. The $1,200 is to be paid from county funds.

Shay and Brokaw received a total of $2,004 for representing Copestick in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon last November when a jury convicted him of slaying his wife Rebecca Mae, 19, with a pistol. The lawyers' trial fees were paid from state funds.

The Seventh District Court upheld the trial court. The lawyers have filed Copestick's appeal in the state Supreme Court.

Plans Are Set For Air Tour

LISBON — Leslie airfield near Williamsport Chapel on Route 7 will be the base for the 1967 Columbiana County air tour July 8.

The annual tour is sponsored by county agricultural agencies to give the public a chance to see modern agricultural practices, recreation areas, strip mining and reforestation.

Don Sickafoose of Magnolia will furnish the planes and pilots and be in charge, as he was for the 1966 tour from Loudon Field near New Garden.

Flights will begin at 9:30 a.m. and continue until nightfall if necessary, according to Joe D. Pittman, county extension agent for agriculture. He said the "rain date" will be July 11 at the same field.

The cost of the 25-minute, 40-mile flight will be $3.50, the same as last year when 260 flew an oval course from New Garden to Lake Tomahawk. Pittman said the flight pattern this year will be over the southern and eastern sections of the county.

Pittman has invited representatives of newspapers, and radio and TV stations to make a press flight at 1 p.m. Friday from Leslie Field.

Foulks Lauded By Bar For 50 Years' Service

The Columbiana County Bar Association presented William S. Foulks of East Liverpool a framed letter Wednesday in recognition of his half century as a lawyer.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Common Pleas Court at Lisbon made the presentation on behalf of the association, which last week took note of Foulks' long service.

—:—

INASMUCH as Foulks was absent then, the bar commissioned Judge Buzzard and Judge Joel H. Sharp to present its testimonial.

"I am going to read it if you don't mind," Judge Buzzard said before making the presentation in Courtroom 2:

"Dear Bill: On behalf of the membership of the Columbiana County Bar Association, we are privileged to recognize your 50 years of loyal service to our association.

"As candidates for the bar, many of us recall the friendly interviews in which you sought to determine our credentials as persons worthy of admission to our high profession.

"You have achieved your unique record of service in length of time and dedication to our association which we are honored to hereby memorialize.

The letter was signed by the officers — George S. Bowman Jr., president; John B. McDonald Jr., vice president, and Jams R. Allison, secretary - treasurer.

THE HONOR was the second accorded Foulks. The Ohio State Bar Association gave him a 50-year certificate during the annual meeting last month in Dayton. He said 10 or 12 of the 45 eligible lawyers were present to receive the award.

Foulks was born and reared in Calcutta where his father, Edwin S. Foulks, farmed and operated a general store. He was graduated from East Liverpool High School and from the Ohio State University Law School in 1916.

He passed the state bar examination in the fall of 1916, married Minabelle Summer, daughter of a Columbus physician in December and began practice in January in the office of P. M. Smith, East Liverpool attorney who had been Common Pleas Court judge at Lisbon from 1895 to 1900.

The young lawyer served in World War I with a trade testing outfit and held the rank of regimental sergeant major. He said the purpose of the work was to test the soldiers for different jobs — "to locate the round pegs for the round holes and keep the square ones out."

FOULKS returned to East Liverpool after military service and began practicing law on his own in January 1919. He organized American Legion Post 4 in June 1919 and helped organize the Columbiana County American Legion Council in 1920.

He served on the County Bar Association's committee for admissions for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Foulks celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last December. They have resided at 239 W. 2nd St. the last 30 years. He works daily at his office at 205 E. 5th St.

The Foulks have a daughter, Martha Jean — Mrs. Robert L. Binsley of Sepulveda, Calif., and two sons, Edwin David with the Ansco Corp., Binghamton, N.Y., and William S. Jr., with the Harshaw Chemical Co., Cleveland. There are four grandchildren.

Attorneys To Get $1,200 For Work In Slaying Case

The two court - appointed lawyers who handled the appeal of Charles Copestick, 26, former East Liverpool resident convicted of first - degree murder, will receive a total of $1,200 for their work.

The Seventh District Court of Appeals fixed the compensation Wednesday in response to an application filed last month by the co-counsel, Donald D. Shay and G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool. They submitted no bill, asking only that the court fix compensation. The $1,200 is to be paid from county funds.

Shay and Brokaw received a total of $2,004 for representing Copestick in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon last November when a jury convicted him of slaying his wife Rebecca Mae, 19, with a pistol. The lawyers' trial fees were paid from state funds.

The Seventh District Court upheld the trial court. The lawyers have filed Copestick's appeal in the state Supreme Court.

Plans Are Set For Air Tour

LISBON — Leslie airfield near Williamsport Chapel on Route 7 will be the base for the 1967 Columbiana County air tour July 8.

The annual tour is sponsored by county agricultural agencies to give the public a chance to see modern agricultural practices, recreation areas, strip mining and reforestation.

Don Sickafoose of Magnolia will furnish the planes and pilots and be in charge, as he was for the 1966 tour from Loudon Field near New Garden.

Flights will begin at 9:30 a.m. and continue until nightfall if necessary, according to Joe D. Pittman, county extension agent for agriculture. He said the "rain date" will be July 11 at the same field.

The cost of the 25-minute, 40-mile flight will be $3.50, the same as last year when 260 flew an oval course from New Garden to Lake Tomahawk. Pittman said the flight pattern this year will be over the southern and eastern sections of the county.

Pittman has invited representatives of newspapers, and radio and TV stations to make a press flight at 1 p.m. Friday from Leslie Field.

Now you can buy a stereo music system that you can own happily for the rest of your life for just $300. The new KLH* Model Twenty-Four will do everything you'd expect a high-performance music system to do—and more. It will play mono and stereo records and mono and stereo FM broadcasts. It has output jacks for making tape recordings, and you can play other music sources (such as a tape recorder or an AM receiver) through it.

All of the electronics in the Model Twenty-Four are solid-state. And all of the electronics, as well as the newly designed high-performance loudspeakers, are built by KLH in their own plant. The only component in the Twenty-Four that isn't built by KLH is the Garrard automatic turntable. It is the same Garrard model used in KLH's most expensive systems.

Because of the Twenty-Four's compact size and sensible three-piece design, it will fit gracefully into any living room. Most important, it will produce uncanny sound. It has the range, spaciousness and power of far more ambitious and costly equipment.

Come and listen to the Twenty-Four in our showroom. We think you'll agree that its sound goes beyond anything you are prepared to expect from an instrument of its size and price.

the bulk of the Christian, Jewish and Moslem holy places — at the start of the June 5-11 war.

In a statement issued here Wednesday night, Jordan's King Hussein said his government viewed "with utmost concern the arbitrary measures taken by the Israeli authorities to effect the annexation of the Jordanian part of Jerusalem."

He called these steps "unacceptable and intolerable" and said "the whole world should stand firm" against them.

The U.S. State Department in a statement also warned Israel that its "hasty administrative action cannot be regarded as determining the future of the Holy places or the status of Jerusalem in relation to them."

The nonaligned resolution submitted by Yugoslavia was intended as a compromise to supplant a Soviet proposal to condemn Israel for aggression and demand withdrawal of its forces and reparations for Arab property destroyed in the fighting.

The new resolution dropped the provisions for condemnation and reparations and asked the Security Council to consider, after the withdrawal of Israeli troops, "questions pertaining to the situation in the area."

The United States said it would oppose the resolution despite Washington's warning to Israel on Jerusalem. A source in the U.S. mission said the resolution was "totally wrong" in calling for withdrawal without making any approach to a solution of the basic causes of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Still another resolution on the over-all situation was under preparation by a group of Western countries and countries from Latin America, Africa and Asia.

It reportedly would call for withdrawal of Israeli troops if the Arab nations end their state of war against Israel. It also would provide for a U.N. mediator to try to work out the other complex issues in the Middle East tangle.

show from Miss Russell and other glamor girls on the trip.

This brought her a contract at Warner Bros.

After a few small roles, she struck it rich in a Broadway show, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" in which she made a startling impression attired solely in a towel. After the run of the play 20th Century-Fox hired her for the film version, in which she gave an impersonation of the studio's reigning star, Marilyn Monroe.

The studio groomed her as a threat to the temperamental Miss Monroe but Jayne claimed: "Marilyn and I have certain points in common, but actually we are entirely different persons."

Her style seemed to be almost a caricature of the open-mouthed, insinuating Monroe style, and she slithered through such films as "The Wayward Bus," "The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw," "Too Hot to Handle," and "It Happened in Athens."

Miss Mansfield early evinced a passion for publicity. She posed in defatigably in all varieties of dress and undress and her 40-21-35½ figure was a delight to photographers.

Her personal life also provided grist for the columnists. She was married at 16 to a public relations man, Paul Mansfield, and was divorced early in her career. A romance with muscleman Mickey Hargitay was widely publicized at a time when he was appearing in Mae Wests night club act. Miss West huffily fired Hargitay because of the publicity and the pair was married in 1956.

Her most recent film was "Panic Button."

Several months ago she filed a $1.6 - million suit against a Southern California animal compound in which her 6-year-old son Zoltan Hargitay was mauled by a lion. The beast slshed the boy's neck and head, but the boy survived after several trips to the operating table.

A few days ago her 16-year-old daughter Jayne Marie Mansfield turned herself in to West Los Angeles police covered with welts and bruises.

Officers said the girl told them a male friend of her mother hit her. She was taken to a police protective facility for children.

position will find themselves "out of step with their citizens."

He added that the "deep brotherly tide with Jews across the world and the American people" were appreciated by those fighting.

"Our war is not over," Avi-Hai added. "The diplomatic struggle goes on."

He cautioned the audience not to let the memories of what happened fade. "Statesmen will take advantage and deals will be made."

"Don't let that happen. Do not let time and the desire for easy accommodation wear away the possibility of a fruitful and meaningful agreement between the principal parties."

—:—

ISRAEL looks forward to open boundaries and common networks with the Arabs, Avi-Hai explained, including bi-lateral disarmament.

"But planes and war instruments are again arriving in Cairo," he continued, "even after the $2 billion Soviet loss due to Arab inability. There is a danger of other hands, more skilled, taking over these weapons."

He concluded by declaring the war is far from over, but added "I promise you. . .whatever we have to face we will face with a clear conscience, determined to end finally this intolerable series of hostilities, bombings and infiltrations."

Avi-Hai closed his address with a plea for the purchase of State of Israel bonds in order to underwrite the cost of reconstruction.

The series of bond pledges began with the purchase by the Potters Bank and Trust Co. of $10,000. Congregation Beth Shalom pledged $6,000, while $5,000 purchases were announced by the First National Bank and Ben Feldman. More than 60 additional pledges came flowing in and an unofficial total minutes after the purchases began showed some $60,000 in bonds had been bought.

MIKE TURK was presented an Israel Service Award by Dr. Alexander Fisher for work done on behalf of Jewish endeavors.

Turk's activities in the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Community Improvement Corp., B'Nai B'rith, the synagogue, United Jewish Appeal and bond drives were mentioned.

In accepting the award, the local auto dealer said, "It has been my philosophy that a person should give his time and effort for his community and fellow man."

He commented that a survey of the audience revealed others equally as deserving of awards for community service.

The event was held under the auspices of the East Liverpool-Midland Bond Committee, with Harry B. Barlow chairman.

Association chairmen were Barry Berman and Maurice Rapport. Albert Silverberg was Midland chairman.

Committee heads included Miss Dorothy Bondy, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Caplan, Mr. and Mrs. Feldman, Mrs. Alvin Fineman, Dr. and Mrs. Fisher, Martin Gluchow, Mrs. Leo Greenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Zangwill Kamil, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Silverman and Sanford Weiner.

GLASGOW, Ky. (AP) — Walter Curd, a veteran political leader in Barren County, sometimes finds it hard to step out of character. He was listening to a basketball game on radio and his team moved ahead. Curd let out a shout. Someone asked what happened. "Why," shouted Curd, "it's Allen County by one vote."

The double - ring ceremony was performed before an altar banked with palms, ferns and candelabra, with the Rev. Paul Darulla of Wellsburg, W. Va., officiating. Rev. Darulla also officiated at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Hopper 24 years ago.

The Rev. Gail Goode, pastor of the church, offered a prayer during the ceremony.

Mrs. Chloras Densmore, organist, provided a half - hour of music, including "I Love You Truly," "Whither Thou Goest" and "Because," sung by Mrs. Ruth Wakefield.

—:—

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over imported English net. The gown was designed along "A" lines with an Empire bodice and long, pointed sleeves. The skirt was draped in a full back cage effect which formed a chapel train.

A petal cap of Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls held an elbow - length veil of illusion.

The familiar traditions were observed. The bride wore a six pence in her shoe.

A cascade bouquet of white carnations, rosebuds and ivy and a Bible were carried by the bride. The Bible and a lace handkerchief had been carried by Mrs. Hopper on her wedding day.

An ivory pendant, carved in the shape of a rose, was worn by the bride, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Rebecca Hopper, sister of the bride, was maid of honor in a full - length frock of lime and pink linen. The bodice was styled on Empire lines with a scooped neckline and brief sleeves. Folds of chiffon created a back train. Bows accented the bodice.

A floral headpiece of pink and English veiling was worn by the maid of honor. She also wore an ivory pendant in the form of a rose, a gift of the bride.

A bouquet of pink carnations, maline net and ferns, accented with lime streamers, was carried by the maid of honor.

Miss Cynthia Hopper, sister of the bride, was a bridesmaid. Her gown and bouquet were identical to that of the maid of honor.

Bruce Craft, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Gary White, Kent Kirkham and John Hopper Jr.

Mrs. Myrtle Hopper, grandmother of the bride, wore a yellow print dress with a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Delmas Watson, grandmother of the bride, chose a black and white dress with a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Margaret Craft, grandmother of the bridegroom, wore a blue and white print dress with a white corsage.

—:—

A RECEPTION for 250 was held at the Inn Town Motel. A pink and green color scheme prevailed.

The bridal table was centered with a three - tier wedding cake surrounded with pink carnations. Daisies decorated the other tables.

Aides were Mrs. Dorothy White, Mrs. Agnes Cermak, Mrs. Katherine Watson, Mrs. Mildred Hopper, Mrs. Sandy Watson and Mrs. William Skaleski.

For a honeymoon in Virginia, the bride chose an ensemble of pink silk and beige accessories. A pink rosebud corsage complemented her choice.

The bride was graduated from East Liverpool High School this year and is a member of Job's Daughters, Bethel 61.

Craft, graduated from the high school in 1965, attended Kent State University previous to enlisting in the Army. He will report to Ft. Dix, N. J. His wife will remain at home.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Just had to drop everything and let you know how I've calmed my frenzied nerves during these hot days when the entire neighborhood of small fry seem to be underfeet.

I've herded them all out to the garage for the summer!!

It's the truth and I do believe I'll not only survive but enjoy these next two months.

With three coats of this super-duper blackboard paint, I covered a six-foot strip across the inside of the garage door, then bought several boxes of colored chalk.

I dragged out the old plastic wading pool from last year, patched it up and filled it with several bags of sand. What a fabulous sandpile it makes!

Next I set up a little table and chairs out there and even drew a hopscotch outline on the concrete floor with chalk.

Now let me tell you how this works:

The garage is oh, so cool. The children are shaded from the hot sun while they play in the sandpile, scribble to their hearts content (three or four at a time) on the huge blackboard and while they have their little tea parties . . . all out from under my feet and off my carpeting.

Now why didn't I think of this last summer?

RELIEVED MOTHER.

-:-

Why didn't I think of this when my children were small!

And whenever that concrete floor gets dirty, just hose it, let it dry, then mark off another hopscotch game and away you go!

My hat's off to you, Mother, for the perfect solution to this summertime problem of keeping small children entertained.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To revive wilted roses or other cut flowers:

Cut off end of stems at a slant and scrape along the sides near the bottom until green underbark shows.

Place them in water as hot as you can stand to hold your hands in and leave until the water cools.

Then put the flowers up to their necks in cold water for at least an hour.

Your cut flowers will really perk up. Try it and see.

GARDENER.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Here are my rules for unexpected company.

If the house is clean I turn on all three living rooms lamps. If it's fair, I use two. If bad, I draw the drapes and light one.

But when it's really awful, I just leave all of them off and make like I'm not home. . .

"CAUGHT."

DEAR HELOISE: Want to add something a little different when frying fresh fish?

Try rolling them in cornmeal that has a dash of cinnamon added. It's a knockout for something different.

KAY McCOOL.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently a group of us gave an "attic" shower for a bride who had no hope chest.

The guests were not to buy anything — just bring something good that was not in use. What a lovely shower it was. My gift was a surplus laundry basket filled with baking equipment and partially used spices (so she could cook but still not have to buy so much the first few weeks).

Also given were tablecloths, scatter rugs, etc., from those who had changed color schemes. And she even received a beautiful box filled with useful odds and ends such as pins, string, pencils, razor blades, etc.

We all had a wonderful time and the bride was overjoyed.

DEAR HELOISE: How many mothers have been caught at birthday time without a candle in the house?

Just insert a round toothpick into the cake icing and give it a twist for a rosette effect. You will immediately have an instant makeshift candle.

Of course you can't light it but it's pretty.

K.W.P.

Whether Israelis Knew It Was U.S.

Court Of Inquiry Refuses To 'Guess' In Ship Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy court of inquiry has refused to speculate on whether Israeli jets and PT boats knew they were attacking a U.S. vessel when they rocketed, machine-gunned and torpedoed the communications ship Liberty during the Middle East war.

A summary of the court's proceedings, released by the Pentagon late Wednesday, also made no mention of reports the ship was engaged in electronic spying on Israeli and Egyptian communications when she was hit June 8 some 15 miles north of the Sinai Peninsula.

The summary, prepared from a secret report, said witnesses before the Navy court testified to "significant surveillance of the Liberty on three occasions" from the air hours before the midafternoon attack.

But the document added that because it was not an international investigation, there was no evidence on whether the planes identified the Liberty.

The Navy court affirmed the vessel's right to be where it was, in international waters and produced evidence the Israeli armed forces "had ample opportunity to identify Liberty correctly," the summary said.

"The court had insufficient information before it to make a judgment on the reasons for the decision by Israeli aircraft and motor torpedo boats to attack," the Pentagon report said.

"It was not the responsibility of the court to rule on the culpability of the attackers, and no evidence was heard from the attacking nation."

The summary said the Navy court, which met in closed session in London and aboard the shattered vessel in Malta, found that the Liberty was in international waters, "properly marked as to her identity and nationality, and in calm, clear weather when she suffered an unprovoked attack."

A total of 33 U.S. Navy men and a civilian technician for the supersecret National Security Agency were killed in the attack. Seventy-five others were injured.

The Israeli government apologized and offered to make amends. Israeli military authorities have announced their own inquiry into the attack, which occurred three days after the outbreak of the Arab-Israeli war.

The Defense Department has said from the outset that the Liberty, a converted World War II merchant ship, was sent to the area "to assure communications between the U.S. government posts in the Middle East and to assist in relaying information concerning the evacuation of American dependents and other American citizens."

There have been published reports that the Libarty actually was functioning as a spy ship eavesdropping on Egyptian and Israeli communications, and that it was operated by the Navy for the National Security Agency.

The Pentagon says the three NSA civilian technicians aboard the Liberty were assisting in "technical research and communications security operations."

An officer aboard the 6th Fleet carrier America told an Associated Press reporter shortly after the attack that the Liberty "was there to spy for us."

Later, Vice Admiral William I. Martin, commander of the 6th Fleet, denied this.

The summary stated the Joint Chiefs of Staff, early on the day of the attack, had ordered Liberty to move further from the coast, even though such a move would have partially lowered her effectiveness.

"The messages were misrouted, delayed, and not received until after the attack," the summary said.

The summary of the Navy court's investigation said the Liberty was subjected to criss-cross rocket and machine-gun strafing by two or more jets. It said there were five or six such attacks in about as many minutes and the ship was hit 821 times.

About 20 minutes after the air attack opened, lookouts aboard the Liberty sighted three PT boats approaching at high speed from the northeast in a wedge formation.

Since the PTs appeared to be making a torpedo run, the report said, Cmdr. William L. McGonagle of Norfolk, Va., ordered a sailor to open fire with a .50-caliber machine gun from a starboard mount. The Liberty had also fired at the attacking planes, the Pentagon said.

As the PTs closed in, the Pentagon said, McGonagle discovered that his ship's American flag had been shot down and he immediately ordered the largest flag aboard, 7 by 13 feet, hoisted from the yardarm.

McGonagle, the skipper, said that when the three PTs reached a range of about 2,000 yards, the center boat in the formation signaled the Liberty. At this range, McGonagle added, it appeared they were flying an Israeli flag.

He said it was not possible to read the signals from the torpedo boat because of the smoke and flames, but he called to a sailor operating a machine gun to hold fire.

He said the sailor manning one machine gun fired a short burst at the PT boats before he was able to understand the order.

Instantly, he added, a second machine gun on the starboard side began firing at the center boat. The skipper sent Ens. David G. Lucas to order the gunner to hold his fire "until we were able to clarify the situation."

Lucas told the court that there was nobody manning the gun and that apparently, because of the heat from a burning whale boat nearby, the ammunition in the gun had gone off.

He said the unmanned gun "was extremely effective and blanketed the area and the center torpedo boat." Moments later, he said, a torpedo hit the Liberty.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Just had to drop everything and let you know how I've calmed my frenzied nerves during these hot days when the entire neighborhood of small fry seem to be underfeet.

I've herded them all out to the garage for the summer!!

It's the truth and I do believe I'll not only survive but enjoy these next two months.

With three coats of this super-duper blackboard paint, I covered a six-foot strip across the inside of the garage door, then bought several boxes of colored chalk.

I dragged out the old plastic wading pool from last year, patched it up and filled it with several bags of sand. What a fabulous sandpile it makes!

Next I set up a little table and chairs out there and even drew a hopscotch outline on the concrete floor with chalk.

Now let me tell you how this works:

The garage is oh, so cool. The children are shaded from the hot sun while they play in the sandpile, scribble to their hearts content (three or four at a time) on the huge blackboard and while they have their little tea parties . . . all out from under my feet and off my carpeting.

Now why didn't I think of this last summer?

RELIEVED MOTHER.

-:-

Why didn't I think of this when my children were small!

And whenever that concrete floor gets dirty, just hose it, let it dry, then mark off another hopscotch game and away you go!

My hat's off to you, Mother, for the perfect solution to this summertime problem of keeping small children entertained.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To revive wilted roses or other cut flowers:

Cut off end of stems at a slant and scrape along the sides near the bottom until green underbark shows.

Place them in water as hot as you can stand to hold your hands in and leave until the water cools.

Then put the flowers up to their necks in cold water for at least an hour.

Your cut flowers will really perk up. Try it and see.

GARDENER.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Here are my rules for unexpected company.

If the house is clean I turn on all three living rooms lamps. If it's fair, I use two. If bad, I draw the drapes and light one.

But when it's really awful, I just leave all of them off and make like I'm not home. . .

"CAUGHT."

DEAR HELOISE: Want to add something a little different when frying fresh fish?

Try rolling them in cornmeal that has a dash of cinnamon added. It's a knockout for something different.

KAY McCOOL.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently a group of us gave an "attic" shower for a bride who had no hope chest.

The guests were not to buy anything — just bring something good that was not in use. What a lovely shower it was. My gift was a surplus laundry basket filled with baking equipment and partially used spices (so she could cook but still not have to buy so much the first few weeks).

Also given were tablecloths, scatter rugs, etc., from those who had changed color schemes. And she even received a beautiful box filled with useful odds and ends such as pins, string, pencils, razor blades, etc.

We all had a wonderful time and the bride was overjoyed.

DEAR HELOISE: How many mothers have been caught at birthday time without a candle in the house?

Just insert a round toothpick into the cake icing and give it a twist for a rosette effect. You will immediately have an instant makeshift candle. Of course you can't light it but it's pretty.

Morrell Chosen For Zoning Post In Council Vote

Charles D. Morrell of 533 College St., a retired painter, was named temporary city zoning inspector at a brief special meeting of Council Wednesday night, replacing Marvin Wooley, an employe of the city engineer's office, who resigned.

Morrell was elected unanimously on a motion by Councilman Frank P. Duffy, seconded by Councilman Norman Bucher. Wooley, who was selected by Council June 19, submitted a letter of resignation which was effective last Saturday. The inspector's salary is derived from 50 per cent of the zoning permit fees collected by the city.

Mayor George E. Willshaw pointed out the need to fill the post as quickly as possible, explaining that any individual or firm which contemplates a building or remodeling project first must obtain approval from the zoning inspector. Before enactment of the zoning regulations, building permits were issued at the mayor's office.

In addition to Duffy and Bucher, those attending the session last night were Councilmen Floyd Murray, James Lowe, Robert W. Sample and Donna Richards Wilson, President Ernest Lowe and Mrs. Betty Berg, clerk. Councilman Harold Maylone was excused.

St. Clair Delegation Hits Cost Of Water Program

LISBON — Eighty crowded Courtroom 2 this morning for a hearing of objections to assessments for the $620,000 St. Clair Township water project.

Alfred Fitch, Salem attorney, appeared on behalf of 367 petitioners in the Calcutta, Glenmoor and Gaston Pl. areas.

The petition stated that tentative assessments against the properties are unacceptable in that they exceed the benefits that would result, and called on the county commissioners to delay proceeding with construction until costs are clearly defined and acceptable to the people concerned.

With the help of Paul Foster of Coolidge Ave., who circulated the petition, Fitch read the 376 names. He said he wanted to read them because the people at one stage had been promised public meetings would be held only in the evening and they were disappointed they could not be present today.

James W. Boyd of East Liverpool, president of the Board of Commissioners, presided. At the table with him were Commissioners Charles J. Gause and R. Max Gard, Engineer George Bloomgren of East Liverpool, Dave Rowlinson of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Cleveland legal firm, and Sharon Quigley of the county engineer's office.

Fitch still had the floor at 11 a.m. and was questioning Bloomgren on financing of the project.

People with grievances at the assessments have five days in which to schedule hearings with the county commissioners. The board has the power to reduce assessments in hardship cases.

Opening the meeting, Boyd told the people they would be given a chance to speak individually. Winifred Byers of Salem, court stenographer, took the proceedings in shorthand.

Meanwhile, Maynard F. DeFriece, 30, of Frederick, Md., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway. He was cited Wednesday at 11:30 p.m., the patrol reported.

Clarence H. Snediker, 41, of 125 Beechwood St. was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of operating an auto without a muffler. He was cited by the patrol Tuesday at 9:30 p. m. on Route 30. Snediker told the court he has purchased new muffler parts for his auto and will install them today.

A hearing is slated July 6 for Clyde Cleo Smith, 55, of 327 1st St., Wellsville, who was cited by the patrol on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol after a crash on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. May 12 at 12:30 a. m. The patrol said his car went off the south side of the road, traveled 75 feet, then scraped the guardrail for 357 feet. The car then jumped the guardrail and continued 169 feet before halting, the patrol said.

Morrell Chosen For Zoning Post In Council Vote

Charles D. Morrell of 533 College St., a retired painter, was named temporary city zoning inspector at a brief special meeting of Council Wednesday night, replacing Marvin Wooley, an employe of the city engineer's office, who resigned.

Morrell was elected unanimously on a motion by Councilman Frank P. Duffy, seconded by Councilman Norman Bucher. Wooley, who was selected by Council June 19, submitted a letter of resignation which was effective last Saturday. The inspector's salary is derived from 50 per cent of the zoning permit fees collected by the city.

Mayor George E. Willshaw pointed out the need to fill the post as quickly as possible, explaining that any individual or firm which contemplates a building or remodeling project first must obtain approval from the zoning inspector. Before enactment of the zoning regulations, building permits were issued at the mayor's office.

In addition to Duffy and Bucher, those attending the session last night were Councilmen Floyd Murray, James Lowe, Robert W. Sample and Donna Richards Wilson, President Ernest Lowe and Mrs. Betty Berg, clerk. Councilman Harold Maylone was excused.

Ohio Slayer Granted Stay Of Execution

CINCINNATI (AP)—Convicted slayer Posteal Laskey Jr., 29, has been granted a stay of execution from his September 15 date with death in Ohio's electric chair.

The first District Court of Appeals Wednesday ruled that it could not consider his appeal from the sentence before that time.

Laskey was sentenced May 5 to die for the August 14, 1966 slaying of Miss Barbara Bowman, attractive 26-year-old secretary. She was slain, testimony at his trial indicated, after Laskey, posing as a taxi driver, had responded to her telephoned request for a cab. He had stolen the cab, the trial court was told.

St. Clair Delegation Hits Cost Of Water Program

LISBON — Eighty crowded Courtroom 2 this morning for a hearing of objections to assessments for the $620,000 St. Clair Township water project.

Alfred Fitch, Salem attorney, appeared on behalf of 367 petitioners in the Calcutta, Glenmoor and Gaston Pl. areas.

The petition stated that tentative assessments against the properties are unacceptable in that they exceed the benefits that would result, and called on the county commissioners to delay proceeding with construction until costs are clearly defined and acceptable to the people concerned.

With the help of Paul Foster of Coolidge Ave., who circulated the petition, Fitch read the 376 names. He said he wanted to read them because the people at one stage had been promised public meetings would be held only in the evening and they were disappointed they could not be present today.

James W. Boyd of East Liverpool, president of the Board of Commissioners, presided. At the table with him were Commissioners Charles J. Gause and R. Max Gard, Engineer George Bloomgren of East Liverpool, Dave Rowlinson of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Cleveland legal firm, and Sharon Quigley of the county engineer's office.

Fitch still had the floor at 11 a.m. and was questioning Bloomgren on financing of the project.

People with grievances at the assessments have five days in which to schedule hearings with the county commissioners. The board has the power to reduce assessments in hardship cases.

Opening the meeting, Boyd told the people they would be given a chance to speak individually. Winifred Byers of Salem, court stenographer, took the proceedings in shorthand.

Court Fines 2 For Speeding

Two men who pleaded guilty to Highway Patrol charges of speeding on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. were fined $15 and costs each today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Clocked by the patrol's plane, the defendants were identified as Edward L. Offord, 31, of Steubenville, cited June 21 at 4:26 p. m., and Richard Grier, 32, of Cook St., arrested June 19 at 3:07 p. m. Both were clocked at 73 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone, the patrol reported.

Meanwhile, Maynard F. DeFriece, 30, of Frederick, Md., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway. He was cited Wednesday at 11:30 p.m., the patrol reported.

Clarence H. Snediker, 41, of 125 Beechwood St. was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of operating an auto without a muffler. He was cited by the patrol Tuesday at 9:30 p. m. on Route 30. Snediker told the court he has purchased new muffler parts for his auto and will install them today.

A hearing is slated July 6 for Clyde Cleo Smith, 55, of 327 1st St., Wellsville, who was cited by the patrol on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol after a crash on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. May 12 at 12:30 a. m. The patrol said his car went off the south side of the road, traveled 75 feet, then scraped the guardrail for 357 feet. The car then jumped the guardrail and continued 169 feet before halting, the patrol said.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Last weekend five teen-agers from our town were killed in an automobile accident. Four of these kids were friends of mine. One was an only child, and two were brothers.

The driver was going at a high rate of speed and he lost control of the wheel. The car went through 25 guardrail posts and down a 40-foot embankment. Every kid in the automobile had a broken neck.

The funerals were like nightmares. You can't imagine the grief of the parents and grandparents and brothers and sisters of those kids who were killed. Classmates and friends felt awful, but in a few weeks we will get over the sadness and think about something else.

For the families of the kids who died, the pain will go on for a long, long time — maybe forever.

I just hope you will urge all teen-agers everywhere to ask themselves, "Could this terrible thing have happened to me?"

I admit I've been guilty of speeding and I've been in cars when the driver was going too fast. I was just luckier than the kids in the death car.

Please print my letter. If it will wake up just one teen-ager and make him realize that a few minutes of excitement could end in five funerals, I'll feel it was worth the effort it took to write to you. — A YOUNG MOURNER.

-:-

Dear Young Mourner: I've received dozens of letters about this same accident. Yours said it best.

A Dirty Bird

Dear Ann: My husband bought me a parrot for Christmas. The bird is not only dirty as a pig but he makes an awful lot of noise.

I can put up with the dirt and the noise all right, but lately that crazy bird has started to imitate the doorbell and I'm half nuts running to the door and finding nobody there. Whenever this happens the parrot gives out a dirty laugh, as if he knows he put over a fast one.

Please tell me how to outwit this miserable but clever bird. —NEW ORLEANS MOANER

-:-

Dear Moaner: Replace the doorbell with a heavy knocker. They are not only decorative but practical. The bird may be clever but he'll have one heck of a time imitating that.

He's Waitless

Dear Ann: I'm in love with a wonderful girl and I want to marry her. She is 17 and just finished high school. She wants to go to college and has won a scholarship, which means she will surely go.

I'm 22 and never had a chance to go beyond high school. The girl insists she loves me but she doesn't want to accept an engagement ring before she goes away.

I'm beginning to think she wants to run around when she gets to college. It seens to me that an engaged girl would pay more attention to her studies, which is what she is supposed to be in college for.

We have gone steady for two years and so far as I know she has been faithful. Please advise her to accept my ring so she will not be tempted to fool around. Thank you, — MR. X.

Dear. Mr. X: Why are you so eager to tie her up? Afraid she might meet someone else who is more appealing?

College means more than studying. It means meeting people and making comparisons and learning how the world works. A 17-year-old girl who would accept an engagement ring before she goes off to college has to have rocks in her head.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Supports Michigan Governor

Give Romney Run For His Money, Rockefeller Asks

JACKSON LAKE LODGE, Wyo. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York urged fellow Republican governors today to give Michigan Gov. George Romney "a run for his money" for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination before turning elsewhere.

Rockefeller told a cocktail party-news conference Wednesday at this resort which his family's money built that despite declarations of support for him as a possible compromise nominee, he doesn't intend to figure in bidding for top place on the ticket. He again said he is wholeheartedly backing Romney.

Rockefeller met, however, with Govs. David F. Cargo of New Mexico and Tom McCall of Oregon during the Republican Governors Conference. Both have declared publicly that Rockefeller is the best qualified and most electable Republican opponent for President Johnson next year.

Cargo and McCall tried to rally moderates against the growing threat of conservative Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, who says he is only his state's favorite-son candidate. Reagan recently has been blossoming as the favorite of conservatives who backed Barry Goldwater in 1964 and want another candidate in Goldwater's mold.

Rockefeller, who sat in briefly on the Cargo-McCall conference, cast doubt on whether party moderates could get together on any candidate or even could agree on specifications for a nominee.

"There are so many different viewpoints within the Republican party that I do not know whether we can ever come to any agreement on what the qualifications of a candidate should be," Rockefeller said.

Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, who may be a favorite-son candidate, said the moderates engaged primarily in chitchat and made little progress toward either agreeing on a candidate or on any specifications for the nominee.

Colorado Gov. John A. Love said in a separate interview he sees no value in any Republican governors' policy declaration on Vietnam.

Love, chairman of the two-day meeting here, forecast, however, a sharply critical statement on Johnson's worldwide foreign policy operations.

In a telegram to Love, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower cautioned the GOP governors against division over "doctrinal differences or specific personalities."

Eisenhower, who has spoken well of both Romney and Reagan, said any division among the Republican state executives might lessen their ability to "exert their unified influence" in electing a Republican president.

Judge Outlines Two-Party Setup At GOP Meeting

Judge Joel Sharp of Salem outlined the history of the two-party system during a meeting of the East Liverpool Republican Women's Club Tuesday at the parish hall of St. Stephen's Episopal Church.

He called the system the best type of government and said in his opinion, it should be continued.

Mrs. Helen Walker gave the invocation and Republican representatives were introduced by Mrs. Gladys Debolt.

A cookbook which club members have been compiling for several months is completed and ready for sale, Mrs. Byron Eells announced.

Mrs. Donald Wolfe, first vice president, read a letter from Mrs. Kathrine Kennedy Brown, president of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women, which named Mrs. Phyllis Eaton to the State Federation Membership Committee.

Guests were from Columbiana, Salem, Lisbon and Cadiz. A coverdish picnic was held.

Mrs. Richard Bryan, program chairman, introduced Ernest Lowe, who sang several selections, accompanied by his wife at the piano.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Take 6 More Lives

By The Associated Press

Two multiple - death traffic accidents have boosted the state's highway death toll since Tuesday night.

The recent dead:

Kenneth D. Leonard, 19, of Valley City, Medina County.

Mrs. Kate Bender, 40, of Lodi.

Glen A. Earnest, 26, of Columbus.

Mary Lou Mullett, 17, of Columbus.

Clida Ingram Harper, 30, of Lima.

Bud Soury, 40, of Laura, Miami County.

Leonard and Mrs. Bender were killed Tuesday night in the collision of a tractor-trailer truck and an automobile nine miles northwest of Medina at Ohio 252 and 303. Leonard was a passenger in the truck and Mrs. Bender was in a car driven by her husband, David, 43. The truck driver, Stuard Zacharias, 41, of Valley City, was hurt seriously, and Bender and his son James, 13, were hurt less seriously.

Earnest and Mary Mullett were killed early Wednesday when a motorcycle they were riding missed a curve and slammed into a house near the Columbus suburb of Groveport.

Clida Harper died Tuesday evening in Lima Memorial Hospital of injuries received about 15 hours earlier when her car collided with a gasoline tank truck at a Lima street intersection.

Soury was killed early today when a car in which he was riding with Russell Arnett, 42, of Pittsburg, Miami County, and Mack Prescott of Union City, struck a bridge abutment on Ohio 721 south of Pottsdam in Miami County. Prescott and Arnett were hurt critically.

Lynette R. Carr, 17, Columbiana R. D. 1, lost driving privileges for 10 days. She was cited for speeding.

Elmer E. Cole, 17, Washingtonville, charged with reckless operation and driving an unsafe vehicle, was fined $5 and surrendered his license until the car is sold or repaired.

Fined wer Judith E. Brinker, 17, Leetonia R. D. 2, failure to yield right of way, $10; James E. Moser, 17, Columbiana, driving left of center, $10, and Russell A. Gorby, 17, East Palestine, unsafe vehicle, $5.

The next hearings for juvenile traffic offenders will be July 11, since the Courthouse will be closed next Tuesday in observance of Independence Day.

'UFO' Reported Near New Castle Along Route 18

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — There has been a report of an Unidentified Flying Object in Western Pennsylvania.

State police said Gabriel Kozora of New Castle R.D 7 reported spotting a hovering object Wednesday about two miles south of New Castle along Route 18. He snapped two pictures of it with a polaroid camera before it reportedly sped away.

Trooper Joseph C. Bulo said the pictures show an object with "definite physical characteristics."

He described the object in the photos as disk-shaped with three portals in its upper half and three portals in the lower half. On top was an extension. Its color was silver.

He said the photographs would be turned over to the Federal Aviation Agency in Pittsburgh.

Kozora told police he was taking pictures of his son when he noticed the object about 600 feet in the air.

"If it's a hoax," Bulo said, "then he (Kozora) did a good job of it.

"But if it isn't, the object isn't something you could pass off as a cloud or a light flash. It had definite physical characteristics," he said.

Educator Claimed

QUAKERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Rocco J. Tresolini, 47, chairman of the Department of Government at Lehigh University, died Tuesday. Dr. Tesolini, a widely known authority in the field of American government and constitutional law, also lectured extensively.

Pennsylvania Senate's Okay Seen For New Schools Head

By PAUL ZDINAK

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two top Senate Democrats say they foresee no obstacles from their side toward Senate confirmation of Dr. David H. Kurtzman as state superintendent of public instruction and Dr. Thomas W. Georges as head of the Department of Public Welfare.

Gov. Shafer announced their appointment Wednesday during a special news conference. Kurtzman is chairman of Shafer's tax study commission, while Georges is secretary of the State Health Department.

The governor said he would submit their names for confirmation to the Senate when it and the House return July 10 after the Fourth of July recess.

Senate Democratic approval is important because it takes a two-thirds vote in the 50-seat chamber for confirmation.

This amounts to 34 votes, and there are 26 Republicans and 22 Democrats. There is one vacancy due to death and another because of an election dispute.

Acting Senate Minority Leader William J. Lane said he thought both appointments were good.

"I see no problem toward their getting confirmed," the Washington County Democrat said. Lane said he was especially pleased at the appointment of Kurtzman.

Sen. Ernest P. Kline, who handles confirmation groundwork for Senate Democrats, said "I foresee no problems," The Beaver County Democrat is a member of the Republican-controlled Executive Nominations Committee.

Kurtzman, 63, would succeed Dr. J. Ralph Rackley as the state's education head. Georges would fill the vacancy being created Saturday by the retirement of Max Rosenn.

Kurtzman probably would not assume his new duties until Sept. 1, the governor said.

"Dr. Kurtzman comes to his new post on the unanimous recommendation of the screening committee headed by Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick. Second, and most importantly, Dr. Kurtzman's tremendous record as both an administrator and educator is without parallel anywhere in the Commonwealth and, indeed, throughout America."

Kurtzman heads the blue-ribbon tax study commission which the governor appointed last January to assist him in drawing up his tax program, although he ultimately ignored most of the commission recommendations.

Farm Publications President James Milholland Jr. said the acquisition includes five semi-monthly farm magazines and two monthly national trade magazines.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Take 6 More Lives

By The Associated Press

Two multiple - death traffic accidents have boosted the state's highway death toll since Tuesday night.

The recent dead:

Kenneth D. Leonard, 19, of Valley City, Medina County.

Mrs. Kate Bender, 40, of Lodi.

Glen A. Earnest, 26, of Columbus.

Mary Lou Mullett, 17, of Columbus.

Clida Ingram Harper, 30, of Lima.

Bud Soury, 40, of Laura, Miami County.

Leonard and Mrs. Bender were killed Tuesday night in the collision of a tractor-trailer truck and an automobile nine miles northwest of Medina at Ohio 252 and 303. Leonard was a passenger in the truck and Mrs. Bender was in a car driven by her husband, David, 43. The truck driver, Stuard Zacharias, 41, of Valley City, was hurt seriously, and Bender and his son James, 13, were hurt less seriously.

Earnest and Mary Mullett were killed early Wednesday when a motorcycle they were riding missed a curve and slammed into a house near the Columbus suburb of Groveport.

Clida Harper died Tuesday evening in Lima Memorial Hospital of injuries received about 15 hours earlier when her car collided with a gasoline tank truck at a Lima street intersection.

Soury was killed early today when a car in which he was riding with Russell Arnett, 42, of Pittsburg, Miami County, and Mack Prescott of Union City, struck a bridge abutment on Ohio 721 south of Pottsdam in Miami County. Prescott and Arnett were hurt critically.

Lynette R. Carr, 17, Columbiana R. D. 1, lost driving privileges for 10 days. She was cited for speeding.

Elmer E. Cole, 17, Washingtonville, charged with reckless operation and driving an unsafe vehicle, was fined $5 and surrendered his license until the car is sold or repaired.

Fined wer Judith E. Brinker, 17, Leetonia R. D. 2, failure to yield right of way, $10; James E. Moser, 17, Columbiana, driving left of center, $10, and Russell A. Gorby, 17, East Palestine, unsafe vehicle, $5.

The next hearings for juvenile traffic offenders will be July 11, since the Courthouse will be closed next Tuesday in observance of Independence Day.

'UFO' Reported Near New Castle Along Route 18

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — There has been a report of an Unidentified Flying Object in Western Pennsylvania.

State police said Gabriel Kozora of New Castle R.D 7 reported spotting a hovering object Wednesday about two miles south of New Castle along Route 18. He snapped two pictures of it with a polaroid camera before it reportedly sped away.

Trooper Joseph C. Bulo said the pictures show an object with "definite physical characteristics."

He described the object in the photos as disk-shaped with three portals in its upper half and three portals in the lower half. On top was an extension. Its color was silver.

He said the photographs would be turned over to the Federal Aviation Agency in Pittsburgh.

Kozora told police he was taking pictures of his son when he noticed the object about 600 feet in the air.

"If it's a hoax," Bulo said, "then he (Kozora) did a good job of it.

"But if it isn't, the object isn't something you could pass off as a cloud or a light flash. It had definite physical characteristics," he said.

Educator Claimed

QUAKERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Rocco J. Tresolini, 47, chairman of the Department of Government at Lehigh University, died Tuesday. Dr. Tesolini, a widely known authority in the field of American government and constitutional law, also lectured extensively.

Pennsylvania Senate's Okay Seen For New Schools Head

By PAUL ZDINAK

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two top Senate Democrats say they foresee no obstacles from their side toward Senate confirmation of Dr. David H. Kurtzman as state superintendent of public instruction and Dr. Thomas W. Georges as head of the Department of Public Welfare.

Gov. Shafer announced their appointment Wednesday during a special news conference. Kurtzman is chairman of Shafer's tax study commission, while Georges is secretary of the State Health Department.

The governor said he would submit their names for confirmation to the Senate when it and the House return July 10 after the Fourth of July recess.

Senate Democratic approval is important because it takes a two-thirds vote in the 50-seat chamber for confirmation.

This amounts to 34 votes, and there are 26 Republicans and 22 Democrats. There is one vacancy due to death and another because of an election dispute.

Acting Senate Minority Leader William J. Lane said he thought both appointments were good.

"I see no problem toward their getting confirmed," the Washington County Democrat said. Lane said he was especially pleased at the appointment of Kurtzman.

Sen. Ernest P. Kline, who handles confirmation groundwork for Senate Democrats, said "I foresee no problems." The Beaver County Democrat is a member of the Republican-controlled Executive Nominations Committee.

Kurtzman, 63, would succeed Dr. J. Ralph Rackley as the state's education head. Georges would fill the vacancy being created Saturday by the retirement of Max Rosenn.

Kurtzman probably would not assume his new duties until Sept. 1, the governor said.

"Dr. Kurtzman comes to his new post on the unanimous recommendation of the screening committee headed by Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick. Second, and most importantly, Dr. Kurtzman's tremendous record as both an administrator and educator is without parallel anywhere in the Commonwealth and, indeed, throughout America."

Kurtzman heads the blue-ribbon tax study commission which the governor appointed last January to assist him in drawing up his tax program, although he ultimately ignored most of the commission recommendations.

Concern Will Acquire Farm Publications

CLEVELAND (AP) — Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc., will acquire the assets of Home State Farm Publications, Inc., of Cleveland for an undisclosed amount of common stock, it was announced Wednesday.

Farm Publications President James Milholland Jr. said the acquisition includes five semi-monthly farm magazines and two monthly national trade magazines.

In early days, Delaware was known as New Sweden.

Sailboats In High, Dry Arizona? Sure!

Sailboats in high and dry Arizona? Yes, Indeed. Planners of Litchfield Park, a brand new town now under construction on 12,000 acres of farmland near Phoenix, have included a large man - made lake with sailboats in their layouts for the city. A survey of Arizona residents revealed that 60 per cent would like to live near a lake.

The city is expected to have a population of over 75,000 when completed in about 20 years. Each of the 12 villages around the central core will be centered around a different recreational facility — the lake, a golf couse, or some other suitable community play area.

The immense heart of the giraffe is one of nature's most powerful pumps. It sends blood 12 feet to the animal's head. When the head is lowered, a valve checks the rush of blood to prevent rupturing the brain; when the animal stands upright, the valve prevents too rapid a drainage of blood from the brain.

Mays Belts Two; Giants Whip Cards

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Anybody for a recount?

Willie Mays left a couple hundred embarrassed All-Star electors in his wake Wednesday when, a few hours after the announcement that he had been left out of the National League's starting line-up for the first time since 1954, he hit two homers and two singles in San Francisco's 9-1 pounding of St. Louis.

The peerless Giant slugger finished fourth in the voting for outfielders, receiving 39 fewer votes than Lou Brock of St. Louis. Willie is virtually certain to be named to the team by Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers, but for the first time since 1954 he won't be a starter.

Willie confesses that "I'm not having what anyone would call a fantastic year," — anyone named Willie Mays, that is; he's hitting .293 with 13 homers and 37 RBI — but you couldn't prove that by the Cards.

In other National League action, Chicago won a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 4-2 and 3-1, Los Angeles overcame Cincinnati 7-5, Houston beat Atlanta 4-2 and Philadelphia edged New York 6-5.

Both of Mays' singles came in the third inning when the Giants scored six times, giving Ray Sadecki a commanding lead against his old teammates that he had no trouble holding.

The first homer was delivered in the sixth inning and the second — No. 555 of his career — came in the eighth. Both were off reliever Al Jackson.

The amazing Cubs made it nine victories in 10 outings with their pair of triumphs over the Pirates. Ferguson Jenkins won the opener, his 10th of the season, and Ray Culp allowed just three hits in the nightcap. Adolfo Phillips hit a three-run homer in the first game and ignited the go-ahead rally with a double in the second.

The Dodgers spotted the Reds five runs, then came back on homers by John Roseboro and Jim Lefebvre, a two-run double by Lou Johnson and three runs on Cincinnati errors. The last two broke a 5-5 tie as Ron Hunt and Willie Davis came in when Chico Ruiz bobbled a grounder by Al Ferrara.

Jimmy Wynn came in on a wild pitch by Phil Niekro with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth, spurring the Astros to their victory, which broke an eight-game losing streak. Jackie Brandt followed with a single for the clinching run. Dave Giusti held the Braves to five hits, striking out 10.

Rich Allen's three-run homer in the seventh followed by Bill White's solo blast won the game for the Phillies. Ken Boyer's two-run triple sparked a three-run first inning for the Mets.

Chicago Nips Orioles, 3-2

Causey's First Home Run In 2 Years Gives Sox Nod

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I wasn't thinking home run," admitted Eddie Stanky, manager of rampaging Chicago White Sox.

"I wasn't thinking home run," muttered Hank Bauer, manager of the faltering Baltimore Orioles.

"I never think home run," grinned Wayne Causey, whose first circuit clout in two years lifted the White Sox to a 3-2 victory over Baltimore Wednesday night.

Causey's three-run eighth inning homer wiped out a 2-0 Oriole lead and gave the first-place White Sox their ninth victory in the last 12 games. Baltimore, the defending world champion, has dropped 12 of the last 16.

Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City used three pitchers to shut out New York 2-0, Minnesota shaded Boston 3-2, Detroit rapped Cleveland 7-4 and California rallied to defeat Washington 4-2.

Ron Hansen and Don Buford opened the Chicago eighth with singles against Baltimore's Bill Dillman, who was working on a shutout. Dillman retired pinch runner Jimmy Stewart at the plate on Tommie Agee's tap.

That left runners at first and second with one out and Causey coming up. On deck was Tom McCraw.

A bunt seemed in order but Stanky decided to let Causey, who now has 34 homers in 10 big league seasons, swing away.

"A home run never crosses my mind," said Causey, who had not hit one since 1965. "I thought I hit it off the handle."

The handle hit dropped neatly into the right field stands and then Hoyt Wilhelm stood off a bases-loaded Baltimore threat in the ninth to preserve the victory.

Bert Campaneris started two Kansas City rallies and scored both Athletic runs as Lew Krausse, Tony Pierce and Jack Aker combined to shut out the Yankees.

Campaneris doubled with one out in the third inning and rode home on Mike Hershberger's single. He reached second on Bill Robinson's error in the sixth and scored on a pinch single by Ken Harrelson.

Krausse, Pierce and Aker allowed five hits between them with Krausse, who worked the first seven innings, getting credit for the victory.

Dave Boswell pitched a four-hitter and Cesar Tovar drove in the winning run with a seventh inning single as the Twins squeezed past Boston.

Boswell, who struck out 13, sacrificed Ted Uhlaender to second in the seventh, and Tolvar delivered him with his hit. Jerry Adair and Reggie Smith homered for the Red Sox.

Orlando Pena walked four men in the sixth inning, forcing the tie-breaking run across, and then Willie Horton delivered a two-run double that helped the Tigers whip Cleveland.

Horton's hit against reliever George Culver followed Pena's bases-loaded pass to Don Wert which snapped a 3-3 tie. A wild pitch brought home Detroit's fourth run of the inning as the Tigers ended a four-game losing streak.

Bob Rodgers delivered a two-run double with two out in the eighth inning that lifted the Angels past the Senators. Singles by Jim Fregosi, John Werhas and Rick Reichardt had tied the score before Rodgers' blow.

Frank Howard accounted for both Washington runs with his 18th homer.

Wisconsin Crew Bows To Oxford; Marietta Wins

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (AP) — Britain's Oxford University crew today knocked the University of Wisconsin heavyweights out of the Grand Challenge Cup—premier event of the Henley Royal Regatta.

The English crew won the first-round race by one and three - quarter lengths in 7 minutes, 21 seconds over the 1 mile, 550-yard River Thames course.

The powerful English eight took the lead early and led throughout the race to finish strongly.

The American crew, making its first appearance at Henley, was bitterly disappointed by the defeat, but never gave up.

Another impressive U. S. victory Wednesday came in the Lady's Challenge Plate for eights, where Marietta College Ohio trounced Clare College of Cambridge, England, by 3¾ lengths.

Marietta meets two other British crews in today's quarterfinals.

Willie Mays Fails After 13 Straight

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays will be among the missing when the National League All-Stars take the field to oppose the American League July 11 at Anaheim, because the players, managers and coaches failed to name him to the starting line-up.

Mays, a super performer who had been a starter for 13 straight years since he came out of the Army in 1954, undoubtedly will be on the team. Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers will pick the pitchers and the rest of the 25-man squad.

The 36-year-old outfielder who is second to Babe Ruth in career home runs finished fourth among the outfielders in the voting. Under a change in the rules, effected last year by Commissioner William Eckert, the first three outfielders are the starters, regardless of their positions.

Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh polled 248 votes, Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves got 216 and Lou Brock of the St. Louis Cardinals drew 116. Mays' total was 77. Both Clemente and Aaron normally are right fielders and Brock is a left fielder so Alston probably will shift Aaron to center.

Gene Alley, Pittsburgh shortstop, drew the most votes with 250, tops in both leagues. A total of 285 votes were cast but Pittsburgh had 27. As players were not permitted to vote for their own teammates, Alley thus received 250 of a possible 258.

Pittsburgh put three men on the starting eight, pitchers excluded. Bill Mazeroski, Alley's double play partner at second base, received 218 votes and was an easy winner along with Alley and Clemente.

Orlando Cepeda, the St. Louis Cardinals first baseman who is having a fine year, outdistanced the opposition with 219 votes, joining outfielder Brock as Card representatives.

Joe Torre, the Atlanta catcher who has been out with injuries, won by a comfortable margin with 187 votes to runnerup Tim McCarver of St. Louis with 62. That gave Atlanta double representation with Aaron and Torre.

The closest fight was for third base where Richie Allen of the Philadelphia Phillies was the winner with 148 votes over Tony Perez of Cincinnati who had 75.

Alston will announce his pitchers Friday and the rest of the squad July 6. There must be at least one from each club on the team. Starters, except pitchers, must play at east the first three innings. Pitchers can not go more than three, except in extra innings.

No less than 15 outfielders got votes. Following Mays' fourth-place total of 77, came Pete Rose of Cincinnati 66, Jimmy Wynn of Houston 55, Rusty Staub of Houston, 27, Billy Williams of Chicago 19, Curt Flood of St. Louis 14, Adolfo Phillips of Chicago 4, Tommy Davis of New York 3, Matty Alou of Pittsburgh 3, Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh 3, John Callison of Philadelphia 2 and Vada Pinson of Cincinnati 2.

Brock was the only left-handed batter in the starting line-up. He and Alley were the only newcomers who had never started. The three repeaters were Aaron, Clemente and Torre. Of the 1966 crops, first baseman Willie McCovey of San Francisco, second baseman Joe Morgan of Houston, third baseman Ron Santo of Chicago, shortstop Leo Cardenas of Cincinnati, who is injured, and Mays did not repeat.

U.S. Women's Open Begins Firing Today

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — In women's golf, Carol Mann, stands tall for a couple of reasons. First, she's 6-foot-3. And, lately, her game has been head and shoulders above that of many of her professional compatriots.

But Miss Mann's head was only near the clouds, not in them, today as the U.S. Women's Open Golf Tournament began at the Cascades Course. Lots of people looked up to her as the golfer to beat. Miss Mann demurred: "I don't pick me."

"After four players—maybe me," said the 26-year-old, talkative blonde who only last week cut nine strokes off par in winning the Buckeye Savings Tournament at Cincinnati. "My game suits this course pretty well—but so do theirs."

She was talking about Kathy Whitworth, No. 1 money winner on the Ladies' PGA tour; Sandra Haynie, No. 3—behind Miss Mann; long-hitting Mickey Wright, and oldtimer Louise Suggs, who plays in only a handful of tournaments nowadays, at 44.

Why these four?

"Because they hit the high approach shots that will hold on these slick greens, and after they're there, they can put the ball in the hole. That's what counts in this one. Hitting the ball won't help you much. You have to read the greens to score, and these are written in sanskrit to most of us."

Miss Mann was among 56 pros and 38 amateurs who started teeing off today in the $25,000 National Open, whose first prize is $5,000, over the hilly, par 36-35—71 Cascades.

The first homer was delivered in the sixth inning and the second — No. 555 of his career — came in the eighth. Both were off reliever Al Jackson.

The amazing Cubs made it nine victories in 10 outings with their pair of triumphs over the Pirates. Ferguson Jenkins won the opener, his 10th of the season, and Ray Culp allowed just three hits in the nightcap. Adolfo Phillips hit a three-run homer in the first game and ignited the go-ahead rally with a double in the second.

The Dodgers spotted the Reds five runs, then came back on homers by John Roseboro and Jim Lefebvre, a two-run double by Lou Johnson and three runs on Cincinnati errors. The last two broke a 5-5 tie as Ron Hunt and Willie Davis came in when Chico Ruiz bobbled a grounder by Al Ferrara.

Jimmy Wynn came in on a wild pitch by Phil Niekro with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth, spurring the Astros to their victory, which broke an eight-game losing streak. Jackie Brandt followed with a single for the clinching run. Dave Giusti held the Braves to five hits, striking out 10.

Rich Allen's three-run homer in the seventh followed by Bill White's solo blast won the game for the Phillies. Ken Boyer's two-run triple sparked a three-run first inning for the Mets.

Chicago Nips Orioles, 3-2

Causey's First Home Run In 2 Years Gives Sox Nod

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I wasn't thinking home run," admitted Eddie Stanky, manager of rampaging Chicago White Sox.

"I wasn't thinking home run," muttered Hank Bauer, manager of the faltering Baltimore Orioles.

"I never think home run," grinned Wayne Causey, whose first circuit clout in two years lifted the White Sox to a 3-2 victory over Baltimore Wednesday night.

Causey's three-run eighth inning homer wiped out a 2-0 Oriole lead and gave the first-place White Sox their ninth victory in the last 12 games. Baltimore, the defending world champion, has dropped 12 of the last 16.

Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City used three pitchers to shut out New York 2-0, Minnesota shaded Boston 3-2, Detroit rapped Cleveland 7-4 and California rallied to defeat Washington 4-2.

Ron Hansen and Don Buford opened the Chicago eighth with singles against Baltimore's Bill Dillman, who was working on a shutout. Dillman retired pinch runner Jimmy Stewart at the plate on Tommie Agee's tap.

That left runners at first and second with one out and Causey coming up. On deck was Tom McCraw.

A bunt seemed in order but Stanky decided to let Causey, who now has 34 homers in 10 big league seasons, swing away.

"A home run never crosses my mind," said Causey, who had not hit one since 1965. "I thought I hit it off the handle."

The handle hit dropped neatly into the right field stands and then Hoyt Wilhelm stood off a bases-loaded Baltimore threat in the ninth to preserve the victory.

Bert Campaneris started two Kansas City rallies and scored both Athletic runs as Lew Krausse, Tony Pierce and Jack Aker combined to shut out the Yankees.

Campaneris doubled with one out in the third inning and rode home on Mike Hershberger's single. He reached second on Bill Robinson's error in the sixth and scored on a pinch single by Ken Harrelson.

Krausse, Pierce and Aker allowed five hits between them with Krausse, who worked the first seven innings, getting credit for the victory.

Dave Boswell pitched a four-hitter and Cesar Tovar drove in the winning run with a seventh inning single as the Twins squeezed past Boston.

Boswell, who struck out 13, sacrificed Ted Uhlaender to second in the seventh, and Tolvar delivered him with his hit. Jerry Adair and Reggie Smith homered for the Red Sox.

Orlando Pena walked four men in the sixth inning, forcing the tie-breaking run across, and then Willie Horton delivered a two-run double that helped the Tigers whip Cleveland.

Horton's hit against reliever George Culver followed Pena's bases-loaded pass to Don Wert which snapped a 3-3 tie. A wild pitch brought home Detroit's fourth run of the inning as the Tigers ended a four-game losing streak.

Bob Rodgers delivered a two-run double with two out in the eighth inning that lifted the Angels past the Senators. Singles by Jim Fregosi, John Werhas and Rick Reichardt had tied the score before Rodgers' blow.

Frank Howard accounted for both Washington runs with his 18th homer.

Wisconsin Crew Bows To Oxford; Marietta Wins

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (AP) — Britain's Oxford University crew today knocked the University of Wisconsin heavyweights out of the Grand Challenge Cup—premier event of the Henley Royal Regatta.

The English crew won the first-round race by one and three - quarter lengths in 7 minutes, 21 seconds over the 1 mile, 550-yard River Thames course.

The powerful English eight took the lead early and led throughout the race to finish strongly.

The American crew, making its first appearance at Henley, was bitterly disappointed by the defeat, but never gave up.

Another impressive U. S. victory Wednesday came in the Lady's Challenge Plate for eights, where Marietta College Ohio trounced Clare College of Cambridge, England, by 3¾ lengths.

Marietta meets two other British crews in today's quarterfinals.

Willie Mays Fails After 13 Straight

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays will be among the missing when the National League All-Stars take the field to oppose the American League July 11 at Anaheim, because the players, managers and coaches failed to name him to the starting line-up.

Mays, a super performer who had been a starter for 13 straight years since he came out of the Army in 1954, undoubtedly will be on the team. Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers will pick the pitchers and the rest of the 25-man squad.

The 36-year-old outfielder who is second to Babe Ruth in career home runs finished fourth among the outfielders in the voting. Under a change in the rules, effected last year by Commissioner William Eckert, the first three outfielders are the starters, regardless of their positions.

Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh polled 248 votes, Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves got 216 and Lou Brock of the St. Louis Cardinals drew 116. Mays' total was 77. Both Clemente and Aaron normally are right fielders and Brock is a left fielder so Alston probably will shift Aaron to center.

Gene Alley, Pittsburgh shortstop, drew the most votes with 250, tops in both leagues. A total of 285 votes were cast but Pittsburgh had 27. As players were not permitted to vote for their own teammates, Alley thus received 250 of a possible 258.

Pittsburgh put three men on the starting eight, pitchers excluded. Bill Mazeroski, Alley's double play partner at second base, received 218 votes and was an easy winner along with Alley and Clemente.

Orlando Cepeda, the St. Louis Cardinals first baseman who is having a fine year, outdistanced the opposition with 219 votes, joining outfielder Brock as Card representatives.

Joe Torre, the Atlanta catcher who has been out with injuries, won by a comfortable margin with 187 votes to runnerup Tim McCarver of St. Louis with 62. That gave Atlanta double representation with Aaron and Torre.

The closest fight was for third base where Richie Allen of the Philadelphia Phillies was the winner with 148 votes over Tony Perez of Cincinnati who had 75.

Alston will announce his pitchers Friday and the rest of the squad July 6. There must be at least one from each club on the team. Starters, except pitchers, must play at east the first three innings. Pitchers can not go more than three, except in extra innings.

No less than 15 outfielders got votes. Following Mays' fourth-place total of 77, came Pete Rose of Cincinnati 66, Jimmy Wynn of Houston 55, Rusty Staub of Houston, 27, Billy Williams of Chicago 19, Curt Flood of St. Louis 14, Adolfo Phillips of Chicago 4, Tommy Davis of New York 3, Matty Alou of Pittsburgh 3, Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh 3, John Callison of Philadelphia 2 and Vada Pinson of Cincinnati 2.

Brock was the only left-handed batter in the starting line-up. He and Alley were the only newcomers who had never started. The three repeaters were Aaron, Clemente and Torre. Of the 1966 crops, first baseman Willie McCovey of San Francisco, second baseman Joe Morgan of Houston, third baseman Ron Santo of Chicago, shortstop Leo Cardenas of Cincinnati, who is injured, and Mays did not repeat.

U.S. Women's Open Begins Firing Today

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — In women's golf, Carol Mann, stands tall for a couple of reasons. First, she's 6-foot-3. And, lately, her game has been head and shoulders above that of many of her professional compatriots.

But Miss Mann's head was only near the clouds, not in them, today as the U.S. Women's Open Golf Tournament began at the Cascades Course. Lots of people looked up to her as the golfer to beat. Miss Mann demurred: "I don't pick me."

"After four players—maybe me," said the 26-year-old, talkative blonde who only last week cut nine strokes off par in winning the Buckeye Savings Tournament at Cincinnati. "My game suits this course pretty well—but so do theirs."

She was talking about Kathy Whitworth, No. 1 money winner on the Ladies' PGA tour; Sandra Haynie, No. 3—behind Miss Mann; long-hitting Mickey Wright, and oldtimer Louise Suggs, who plays in only a handful of tournaments nowadays, at 44.

Why these four?

"Because they hit the high approach shots that will hold on these slick greens, and after they're there, they can put the ball in the hole. That's what counts in this one. Hitting the ball won't help you much. You have to read the greens to score, and these are written in sanskrit to most of us."

Miss Mann was among 56 pros and 38 amateurs who started teeing off today in the $25,000 National Open, whose first prize is $5,000, over the hilly, par 36-35—71 Cascades.

3 U.S. Players Continue Upsets

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The Americans, who came to Wimbledon as the laughing stock of world amateur tennis, have becomes its heroes.

Three U.S. players — Cliff Richey, Marty Riessen and Charlie Pasarell — have set the tournament ablaze by toppling seeded stars when none of the experts gave them a chance.

Two of them — Richey and Riessen — took part in last week's Davis Cup disaster when the United States was eliminated by little Ecuador.

Pasarell didn't even see action in that competition. His form wasn't considered good enough.

Richey, the chunky, red-haired 20-year-old from San Angelo, Tex., scored the most incredible triumph of his life Wednesday over Tony Roche, the Australian left-hander who was seeded No. 4. After four exhausting hours, Richey won 3-6 3-6 19-17 14-12 6-3.

Riessen, from Evanston, Ill., demolished the Danish left-hander Jan Leschly, seeded No. 7, 1-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Pasarell, of Santurce, P.R., staged the first sensation of the tournament by eliminating the reigning champion, Manuel Santana of Spain. He followed that up Wednesday by defeating another highly regarded player, Bob Hewitt of South Africa, 6-3, 6-8, 6-2, 6-4.

Riessen, for one, was still feeling sore about the Davis Cup disaster in Ecuador — even though the Wimbledon crowds applauded him back to the dressing room after he had beaten Leschly.

"Nothing that happens here can make up for our failure against Ecuador," Riessen said. "Even if I won the Wimbledon title it wouldn't erase the memory of that."

The three Americans were all considered to have a tough draw when this tournament started — and nobody seriously expected them to go very far.

Now they found themselves clear of the big hurdles with an apparently smooth path ahead.

Richey faced Ray Ruffels of Australia in the round of 32.

Reissen had to meet John Cooper, a 20-year-old Australian, and brother of Ashley Cooper, the 1958 Wimbledon champion.

Pasarell was paired against Frank Tutvin, a Canadian who is studying at the University of Iowa and lives at Hollywood, Fla.

Two other Americans were left in the last 32. San Smith of Los Angeles had to play Australia's John Newcombe, the No. 3 seed, and Clark Graebner, Riessen's Davis Cup doubles partner from Beachwood, Ohio, faced Edison Mandarino of Brazil.

Roy Emerson of Australia, favorite for his third Wimbledon title now that Santana is out, had another easy victory Wednesday and now meets Bob Maud of South Africa.

Mrs. Stranahan Upsets Defending Ohio Golf Champ

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, who upset the defending champion, was paired against Lida Matthews of Portsmouth going into today's semifinal round of the Women's Ohio State Golf Association Invitational Championship.

Mrs. Stranahan defeated last year's winner, Mrs. John Whitacre Jr. of Canton, 5 and 3 Wednesday while Miss Matthews downed Mrs. Betty Dillahunt of Springfield 6 and 5.

In the other championship quarterfinal matches, tournament medalist Mrs. John Fitton of Hamilton defeated Carol Diringer of Tiffin 7 and 5 while Miss Anne Richardson of Columbus beat Mrs. Ned Oldham of Cleveland 6 and 5.

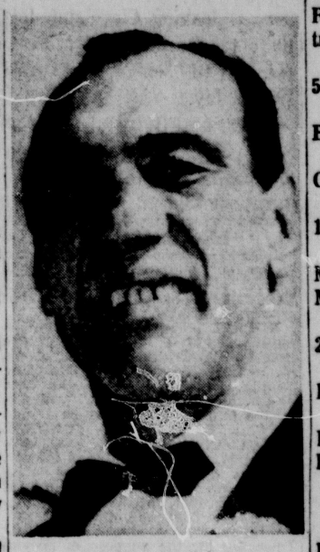
Defending Golf Champ Defeated In Junior Play

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The field of 64 was without its defending champion and three medalists going into today's quarterfinal round of the Mid-America Junior Open Golf Tournament.

Pete Reiber of Columbus eliminated the defending champion Wednesday afternoon with his 5 and 4 match play victory over Ralph Colla of Youngstown.

Primo Carnera, Former Heavyweight King, Dies



PRIMO CARNERA
Ex-Champ Dead At 60.

SEQUALS, Italy (AP)—Primo Carnera, the towering Italian known as "The Ambling Alp" when he won the world heavyweight boxing championship in 1933, died today in this mountain town where he was born. He was 60.

His huge body wasted from cirrhosis of the liver. Carnera left the United States last month and came home to die.

He was in a coma for almost a week before death came.

Carnera was champion less than a year. He won the heavyweight title on June 29, 1933, when he knocked out Jack Sharkey in the sixth round in New York. Max Baer took the title from him on June 14, 1934, with an 11th round knockout in New York.

In between Carnera defeated two challengers, Paulino Uzcudun, in 15 rounds in Rome, and Tommy Loughran in 15 rounds in Miami.

Carnera remained a big name to the end. His was a life story of success, shadows and sorrow in the ring, a private war against the Nazis in Italy in World War II, his comeback in the United States as a wrestler, fatal illness and now finish to it all.

Carnera had been in failing health for about three years after concluding a career in wrestling.

When he and his wife, Pina, left their home in Glendale, Calif., last May 10 for a visit to his Italian homeland, Primo vowed he would return to the land where he and his family became citizens.

But for the few who knew the truth of his condition, the boxer's departure from Los Angeles International Airport to Rome was a tearful farewell.

Carnera and his wife, who were married March 13, 1939 in a little village near the Yugoslav Italian border, left in the United States their two children, Jean Marie Alderson, 24, wife of an engineer, and Umberto, a 27-year-old medical student.

The boxing champion received an emotional welcome in Italy. But the sight of his drawn face and the fact that he had to lean heavily on a cane deeply shocked his many fans here.

When Carnera finally reached Sequals, he had lost 40 of his 260 pounds distributed over a well-proportioned 6-foot-6 frame.

Primo, born in this tiny town on Oct. 26, 1906, the son of a stone cutter, was discovered by a French fight manager, Leon See, when Carnera was appearing as a weight lifter and Greco-Roman wrestler with a small circus in southern France.

Carnera began fighting in Europe in 1928 and went to America the next year for the first time.

Palmer Seeking 50th Pro Title

MONTREAL (AP) — Arnold Palmer set out after his 50th professional golf triumph today in the tournament that launched him to an unrivaled history of success while the cloud of a possible future players strike loomed over the Canadian Open.

Palmer, who has won more money than any other player in the game, concentrated on his golf and skipped a late meeting of the touring pros that could trigger another episode in their long-standing and complex feud with the Professional Golfers Association.

Doug Ford, a member of the player's committee, emerged from a two- hour closed door session Wednesday with the curt announcement, "It's a very serious situation."

The players, seeking more voice in the control of the tour, declined to discuss their meeting, but an announcement calling the gathering said it would concern a critical veto power by the PGA Executive Committee.

This was supposed to have all been thrashed out in a meeting at Cleveland last week. But nothing was committed to paper and some questions have arisen.

"We're just trying to solve a little misunderstanding," Ford said. "We won't have any statement until the PGA Executive Committee hears from us."

He declined to answer further questions, but the prospect of a player boycott of the PGA Championship in Denver, Colo., next month appeared a distinct possibility.

Regardless of their actions, it was very unlikely that the current Canadian Open would be affected.

Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, the two giants of the game, were the co-favorites with Palmer needing a victory to bolster his sagging prestige. He put it well himself.

"I'm probably playing as well now as I ever did. I'm just finishing second instead of first."

He hasn't won a major title—the U.S. or British Open, Masters or PGA—since the Masters of 1964. Since then Nicklaus, 10 years younger than the 37-year-old Palmer, has won two Masters', a British Open and a U.S. Open, the record smashing triumph of two weeks ago.

3 U.S. Players Continue Upsets

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The Americans, who came to Wimbledon as the laughing stock of world amateur tennis, have becomes its heroes.

Three U.S. players — Cliff Richey, Marty Riessen and Charlie Pasarell — have set the tournament ablaze by toppling seeded stars when none of the experts gave them a chance.

Two of them — Richey and Riessen — took part in last week's Davis Cup disaster when the United States was eliminated by little Ecuador.

Pasarell didn't even see action in that competition. His form wasn't considered good enough.

Richey, the chunky, red-haired 20-year-old from San Angelo, Tex., scored the most incredible triumph of his life Wednesday over Tony Roche, the Australian left-hander who was seeded No. 4. After four exhausting hours, Richey won 3-6 3-6 19-17 14-12 6-3.

Riessen, from Evanston, Ill., demolished the Danish left-hander Jan Leschly, seeded No. 7, 1-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Pasarell, of Santurce, P.R., staged the first sensation of the tournament by eliminating the reigning champion, Manuel Santana of Spain. He followed that up Wednesday by defeating another highly regarded player, Bob Hewitt of South Africa, 6-3, 6-8, 6-2, 6-4.

Riessen, for one, was still feeling sore about the Davis Cup disaster in Ecuador — even though the Wimbledon crowds applauded him back to the dressing room after he had beaten Leschly.

"Nothing that happens here can make up for our failure against Ecuador," Riessen said. "Even if I won the Wimbledon title it wouldn't erase the memory of that."

The three Americans were all considered to have a tough draw when this tournament started — and nobody seriously expected them to go very far.

Now they found themselves clear of the big hurdles with an apparently smooth path ahead.

Richey faced Ray Ruffels of Australia in the round of 32.

Reissen had to meet John Cooper, a 20-year-old Australian, and brother of Ashley Cooper, the 1958 Wimbledon champion.

Pasarell was paired against Frank Tutvin, a Canadian who is studying at the University of Iowa and lives at Hollywood, Fla.

Two other Americans were left in the last 32. San Smith of Los Angeles had to play Australia's John Newcombe, the No. 3 seed, and Clark Graebner, Riessen's Davis Cup doubles partner from Beachwood, Ohio, faced Edison Mandarino of Brazil.

Roy Emerson of Australia, favorite for his third Wimbledon title now that Santana is out, had another easy victory Wednesday and now meets Bob Maud of South Africa.

Mrs. Stranahan Upsets Defending Ohio Golf Champ

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, who upset the defending champion, was paired against Lida Matthews of Portsmouth going into today's semifinal round of the Women's Ohio State Golf Association Invitational Championship.

Mrs. Stranahan defeated last year's winner, Mrs. John Whitacre Jr. of Canton, 5 and 3 Wednesday while Miss Matthews downed Mrs. Betty Dillahunt of Springfield 6 and 5.

In the other championship quarterfinal matches, tournament medalist Mrs. John Fitton of Hamilton defeated Carol Diringer of Tiffin 7 and 5 while Miss Anne Richardson of Columbus beat Mrs. Ned Oldham of Cleveland 6 and 5.

Chips ins were won by Mary Sisley, Annabelle Guy and Rukenbroad.

Low putts were won by Jane Beresford, Helen Sullivan, Anita Metz and Guy.

The Women's Association will not play next week because of the July 4 holiday.

Defending Golf Champ Defeated In Junior Play

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The field of 64 was without its defending champion and three medalists going into today's quarterfinal round of the Mid-America Junior Open Golf Tournament.

Pete Reiber of Columbus eliminated the defending champion Wednesday afternoon with his 5 and 4 match play victory over Ralph Colla of Youngstown.

Primo Carnera, Former Heavyweight King, Dies

SEQUALS, Italy (AP)—Primo Carnera, the towering Italian known as "The Ambling Alp" when he won the world heavyweight boxing championship in 1933, died today in this mountain town where he was born. He was 60.

His huge body wasted from cirrhosis of the liver, Carnera left the United States last month and came home to die.

He was in a coma for almost a week before death came.

Carnera was champion less than a year. He won the heavyweight title on June 29, 1933, when he knocked out Jack Sharkey in the sixth round in New York. Max Baer took the title from him on June 14, 1934, with an 11th round knockout in New York.

In between Carnera defeated two challengers, Paulino Uzcudun, in 15 rounds in Rome, and Tommy Loughran in 15 rounds in Miami.

Carnera remained a big name to the end. His was a life story of success, shadows and sorrow in the ring, a private war against the Nazis in Italy in World War II, his comeback in the United States as a wrestler, fatal illness and now finish to it all.

Carnera had been in failing health for about three years after concluding a career in wrestling.

When he and his wife, Pina, left their home in Glendale, Calif., last May 10 for a visit to his Italian homeland, Primo vowed he would return to the land where he and his family became citizens.

But for the few who knew the truth of his condition, the boxer's departure from Los Angeles International Airport to Rome was a tearful farewell.

Carnera and his wife, who were married March 13, 1939 in a little village near the Yugoslav Italian border, left in the United States their two children, Jean Marie Alderson, 24, wife of an engineer, and Umberto, a 27-year-old medical student.

The boxing champion received an emotional welcome in Italy. But the sight of his drawn face and the fact that he had to lean heavily on a cane deeply shocked his many fans here.

When Carnera finally reached Sequals, he had lost 40 of his 260 pounds distributed over a well-proportioned 6-foot-6 frame.

Primo, born in this tiny town on Oct. 26, 1906, the son of a stone cutter, was discovered by a French fight manager, Leon See, when Carnera was appearing as a weight lifter and Greco-Roman wrestler with a small circus in southern France.

Carnera began fighting in Europe in 1928 and went to America the next year for the first time.

Palmer Seeking 50th Pro Title

MONTREAL (AP) — Arnold Palmer set out after his 50th professional golf triumph today in the tournament that launched him to an unrivaled history of success while the cloud of a possible future players strike loomed over the Canadian Open.

Palmer, who has won more money than any other player in the game, concentrated on his golf and skipped a late meeting of the touring pros that could trigger another episode in their long-standing and complex feud with the Professional Golfers Association.

Doug Ford, a member of the player's committee, emerged from a two- hour closed door session Wednesday with the curt announcement, "It's a very serious situation."

The players, seeking more voice in the control of the tour, declined to discuss their meeting, but an announcement calling the gathering said it would concern a critical veto power by the PGA Executive Committee.

This was supposed to have all been thrashed out in a meeting at Cleveland last week. But nothing was committed to paper and some questions have arisen.

"We're just trying to solve a little misunderstanding," Ford said. "We won't have any statement until the PGA Executive Committee hears from us."

He declined to answer further questions, but the prospect of a player boycott of the PGA Championship in Denver, Colo., next month appeared a distinct possibility.

Regardless of their actions, it was very unlikely that the current Canadian Open would be affected.

Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, the two giants of the game, were the co- favorites with Palmer needing a victory to bolster his sagging prestige. He put it well himself.

"I'm probably playing as well now as I ever did. I'm just finishing second instead of first."

He hasn't won a major title—the U.S. or British Open, Masters or PGA—since the Masters of 1964. Since then Nicklaus, 10 years younger than the 37-year-old Palmer, has won two Masters', a British Open and a U.S. Open, the record smashing triumph of two weeks ago.

By Al Green

BE CAREFUL OF MISLEADING ADVERTISING such as a car displayed on TV as a "special", but you find it's gone when you reach the dealership. This car was probably wholesaled several days before it was advertised. Watch for "below invoice price" deals. These often are cars from which standard equipment has been removed.

IN 1922 1,568,505 CARS WERE SOLD in the U.S. During 1966 the total was 9,008,488 cars sold. The 41 year average: 4,229,541.

COLOR CODED FREEWAYS ARE BEING experimented with in many areas. Entrance ramps are edged in yellow, exit ramps have a blue edging. This has helped cut down erratic car maneuvers by 38%.

YOU JUST CAN'T HELP IT! YOUR CHEST swells just a bit, there's a spring in your step, and a gleam in your eye . . . you've got a brand new car! It's a great feeling, and a safe one too. Marine Made Heroic Effort

Survivor Of Ship Attack Relates Story Of Bravery

AP military writer Bob Horton was aboard the USS America on June 11 and there interviewed a survivor of the Israeli attack on the American ship Liberty three days before. Here, in counterpoint to a Pentagon account of the attack published Wednesday, is the way one survivor remembers it.

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's account of the Israeli attack on the USS Liberty presents a picture of almost mercifully quick deaths among the crew. One survivor remembers it differently and tells how at least one man was sealed in flooding hatches.

In a condensation of the Navy court of inquiry's findings on the attack, which killed 34 men, the Pentagon reported 25 died instantly from an Israeli torpedo blast.

"Those few not killed outright escaped from the compartments," the Pentagon said Wednesday.

"The court," the Pentagon said, "heard testimony from witnesses, including a salvage expert, who stated that beyond a shadow of a doubt those who died there were killed instantly by the blast.

"None could have survived, trapped in the compartment, to die of suffocation or drowning."

But one of the Liberty's wounded crewmen told newsmen aboard the carrier USS America on June 11, three days after the attack, of a young Marine who bravely tried to rescue companions from flooded areas of the ship.

Seaman Kenneth Ecker of Watseka, Ill., said the Marine helped some crewmen from water-swept hatches and returned below deck to assist others. The implication was that others were alive.

"He never came back," Ecker said. "Water was pouring in the torpedo hole so fast they had to close the hatch."

Only 9 bodies of the 34 dead were recovered the first two days after the attack.

Ecker said the Marine was a corporal who boarded the Liberty only one week before when the communications ship stopped at Rota, Spain, for fuel and supplies en route to the Mediterranean.

The Pentagon's list of the dead names two Marines, one Cpl. Edward E. Rehmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Rehmeyer Jr., of Railroad, Pa. The other Marine was a sergeant.

It could not be determined Wednesday night whether Ecker was called to testify before the court.

Ecker, an 18-year-old radioman, was lucky.

He put on his steel helmet when Israeli planes bore down on the ship. At least eight chunks of shrapnel or pieces of bullets struck his helmet, one penetrating and bouncing off his head. One hole in the helmet was nearly an inch in diameter.

Ecker, knocked from his feet, suffered a one-inch scalp cut and a headache, but wasn't seriously hurt.

The captain of the Liberty, Cmdr. William L. McGonagle, was among the 75 wounded. He was hit by shrapnel in the leg, but continued directing the ship.

The report gave high praise to McGonagle, as well as to the entire crew, and said he has been recommended for an individual award.

URW Accepts UAW's Loan Of $1 Million

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An interest-free loan of at least a million dollars from the United Auto Workers has been accepted by the United Rubber Workers, URW International President Peter Bommarito said Wednesday.

The amount of the loan was not disclosed, but Bommarito said it would be in the "seven-figure bracket." He said the UAW has pledged continued support.

"This loan plus continued pledges of financial aid makes it clear that the URW will be able to carry on our strike benefit program indefinitely," Bommarito said.

Some 55,000 United Rubber Workers Union members have been idled by strikes against Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Uniroyal, Inc., B. F. Goodrich Co. and General Tire & Rubber Co.

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. is the only major rubber company still operating.

The companies have what they call a mutual assistance pact, which means a major company still operating will be able to continue its strike benefits of $15 a week. When the strike first started, benefits were $25 weekly.

General Tire reported Wednesday it had net earnings of $10,733,000 for the six months ended May 31, a decrease of nearly $13 million from the first half of 1966.

Meanwhile, there was unrest at Goodrich for the second straight day as pickets massed at the company's gates. Pickets left when union leaders told them a meeting was arraigned to discuss grievances.

Mayor John S. Ballard presided over a closed meeting of URW, Goodrich and city law officials.

No report was issued, but the mayor said another meeting would be held today.

Marine Made Heroic Effort

Survivor Of Ship Attack Relates Story Of Bravery

AP military writer Bob Horton was aboard the USS America on June 11 and there interviewed a survivor of the Israeli attack on the American ship Liberty three days before. Here, in counterpoint to a Pentagon account of the attack published Wednesday, is the way one survivor remembers it.

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's account of the Israeli attack on the USS Liberty presents a picture of almost mercifully quick deaths among the crew. One survivor remembers it differently and tells how at least one man was sealed in flooding hatches.

In a condensation of the Navy court of inquiry's findings on the attack, which killed 34 men, the Pentagon reported 25 died instantly from an Israeli torpedo blast.

"Those few not killed outright escaped from the compartments," the Pentagon said Wednesday.

"The court," the Pentagon said, "heard testimony from witnesses, including a salvage expert, who stated that beyond a shadow of a doubt those who died there were killed instantly by the blast.

"None could have survived, trapped in the compartment, to die of suffocation or drowning."

But one of the Liberty's wounded crewmen told newsmen aboard the carrier USS America on June 11, three days after the attack, of a young Marine who bravely tried to rescue companions from flooded areas of the ship.

Seaman Kenneth Ecker of Watseka, Ill., said the Marine helped some crewmen from water-swept hatches and returned below deck to assist others. The implication was that others were alive.

"He never came back," Ecker said. "Water was pouring in the torpedo hole so fast they had to close the hatch."

Only 9 bodies of the 34 dead were recovered the first two days after the attack.

Ecker said the Marine was a corporal who boarded the Liberty only one week before when the communications ship stopped at Rota, Spain, for fuel and supplies en route to the Mediterranean.

The Pentagon's list of the dead names two Marines, one Cpl. Edward E. Rehmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Rehmeyer Jr., of Railroad, Pa. The other Marine was a sergeant.

It could not be determined Wednesday night whether Ecker was called to testify before the court.

Ecker, an 18-year-old radioman, was lucky.

He put on his steel helmet when Israeli planes bore down on the ship. At least eight chunks of shrapnel or pieces of bullets struck his helmet, one penetrating and bouncing off his head. One hole in the helmet was nearly an inch in diameter.

Ecker, knocked from his feet, suffered a one-inch scalp cut and a headache, but wasn't seriously hurt.

The captain of the Liberty, Cmdr. William L. McGonagle, was among the 75 wounded. He was hit by shrapnel in the leg, but continued directing the ship.

The report gave high praise to McGonagle, as well as to the entire crew, and said he has been recommended for an individual award.

URW Accepts UAW's Loan Of $1 Million

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An interest-free loan of at least a million dollars from the United Auto Workers has been accepted by the United Rubber Workers, URW International President Peter Bommarito said Wednesday.

The amount of the loan was not disclosed, but Bommarito said it would be in the "seven-figure bracket." He said the UAW has pledged continued support.

"This loan plus continued pledges of financial aid makes it clear that the URW will be able to carry on our strike benefit program indefinitely," Bommarito said.

Some 55,000 United Rubber Workers Union members have been idled by strikes against Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Uniroyal, Inc., B. F. Goodrich Co. and General Tire & Rubber Co.

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. is the only major rubber company still operating.

The companies have what they call a mutual assistance pact, which means a major company still operating will be able to continue its strike benefits of $15 a week. When the strike first started, benefits were $25 weekly.

General Tire reported Wednesday it had net earnings of $10,733,000 for the six months ended May 31, a decrease of nearly $13 million from the first half of 1966.

Meanwhile, there was unrest at Goodrich for the second straight day as pickets massed at the company's gates. Pickets left when union leaders told them a meeting was arraigned to discuss grievances.

Mayor John S. Ballard presided over a closed meeting of URW, Goodrich and city law officials.

No report was issued, but the mayor said another meeting would be held today.

Drivers In Kentucky Wonder About Names

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Travelers in Kentucky may wonder at the appropriateness of the names of communities they drive through.

Oddville is far from Ordinary, as might be expected, and Wisdom is the next thing to Freedom. Yet, not much separates Fearsville from Paradise and South is north of Sweden.

The Bluegrass State's Sunrise is the north, it has only one Shoulderblade and its Pride is nowhere near a fall. And Eighty Eight is on KY 80.

And if you get too confused, there is a Relief not far from a Gimlet.

Accepts Resignation

Drivers In Kentucky Wonder About Names

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Travelers in Kentucky may wonder at the appropriateness of the names of communities they drive through.

Oddville is far from Ordinary, as might be expected, and Wisdom is the next thing to Freedom. Yet, not much separates Fearsville from Paradise and South is north of Sweden.

The Bluegrass State's Sunrise is the north, it has only one Shoulderblade and its Pride is nowhere near a fall. And Eighty Eight is on KY 90.

And if you get too confused, there is a Relief not far from a Gimlet.

Accepts Resignation

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Hancock County Court of Commissioners met briefly Wednesday to officially accept the resignation of Dr. Richard E. Flood as acting health officer and as a member of the board of health. Members said they will send a letter commending him for his services.

Junior Editors Quiz on EYES

QUESTION: What does nature do to protect your eyes?

ANSWER: Eyesight is the most important of our senses. It tells us more about the outside world than the others do. To use the sense of touch, you must be close enough to actually touch something. But our eyes see the light of stars which are enormously far away. To accomplish this, the eye is a marvelous and delicate instrument, with a tiny lens which focuses a minute color-image on the back of the eyeball. It is the bony eye socket which mainly protects this delicate, fragile eyeball. In front, as our lower picture suggests, the bone projects above and below, at brow and cheekbone. This is why, if someone hits you in the eye, the eyeball rarely is damaged. The eyelids serve as flexible cases protecting much of the eyeball, and all of it when we are asleep. Eyebrows and eyelashes help by screening out dirt and other matter. Not least of nature's methods of caring for our eyes is the use of tear fluid, distributed over the eyeball every time we blink. This keeps our eyes clean and moist and able to rotate freely.
